

The executive committee on the camp grounds tomorrow will be composed of Walter W. Waddill, George Savage, George Heubi and Jack Whittington.

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of two men standing outdoors in a snowy environment. Both men are wearing knit hats and heavy coats. The man on the left is wearing a patterned knit hat and a dark coat with a light-colored, textured collar. The man on the right is wearing a light-colored knit hat and a dark coat with a thick, light-colored fur collar. They are both looking towards the camera. The background is dark and indistinct, with some snow visible on the ground and possibly on the men's clothing. The image has a grainy, high-contrast quality, typical of older newspaper photos.

TOM SIMS
NEWS PAPER

FINE JOB FOR SOMEONE

NEW FILLS

My stomach and intestines are always full of gas and I am prone to severe colic attacks. The gas and soreness caused me to purchase a new set of pills called Dr. Price's Malted Wheatena. It has worked like a charm. My stomach and intestines have disappeared and I am now able to make enough gas to fill all the food I take. It is so simple, harmless, pleasant and effective that I can recommend it to my friends. It acts on the stomach, intestines, liver and all the organs of the digestive system which cause the gas in the stomach, liver and intestines and including appendicitis, indigestion, constipation, flatulence, heartburn, sourness of the mouth, and all the ailments of the digestive system. It is sold by all the best Drug Stores and druggists at a very low price.

Cry for

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

MRS. H.S. SHAMBURGER and a Visitor in a Field of 2-year-old
ROSE PLANTS
Near Tyler, Texas

CAR

Q&A

100

F E

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

K O P A K S I N E M I T A L

TRINKLE LAUDS JAS. MONROE IN HAMPTON TALK

HAMPTON, May 2.—While opinions may differ as to the "true measure of Monroe's greatness, there are none to deny his soundness of judgment, his strength of character and his purity of life," Governor Trinkle declared in an address prepared for delivery today at Fortress Monroe.

The governor presented in behalf of the Kecoughtan Literary Circle, of Hampton, a portrait of James Monroe to the fortress. The portrait, the fifth president of the United States was painted by Kathryn Critcher.

"While other hands may have drawn the Bill of Rights, while the pen of another draughted the Declaration of American Independence," the governor asserted, "it may be said of Monroe that to him is due the utterance of that mighty and immortal principle, known in its embodiment as the 'Monroe Doctrine'—that doctrine which constitutes a kind of defiance to the European and Asiatic worlds where the integrity and sovereignty of American soil is concerned.

"When Monroe was born, Washington, in command of Virginia troops, was defending the frontier from Indians, while John Adams was engaged in teaching school and in the study of law in Massachusetts.

"When the open rupture with England came, Monroe was sixteen years of age and ready for college. Entering William and Mary, he remained at this institution of learning until he was seventeen, when unable to resist the call to the colors, together with three professors and some thirty students, he left the cloister for field and there took his place in those heroic lines where fought the patriots for the independence of the Western World. . . . At the battle of Trenton, Monroe was wounded, thus sealing with his blood his love of freedom and of home.

"Following the revolution, Monroe resumed the study of law under the direction of Thomas Jefferson, then governor of Virginia. In 1782, he was elected to the legislature of Virginia, which body named him a member of the executive council. A year later, he was sent to congress, being then but twenty-four years of age.

"The public career of the subject of this sketch was characterized by brilliancy and by rapid recognition and advancement. He served in the United States senate from Virginia from 1789 to 1794, when he was a pointed minister plenipotentiary to France under Washington. He arrived at Paris just after the fall of Robespierre.

"It will be of interest to pause long enough in our consideration of President Monroe as an international figure to recall the pen picture given by William Wirt, in which his person appeared at the time of which we have just been speaking was set forth as follows:

"In his stature, he is about the middle height of men, rather firmly set, with nothing further remarkable in his person, except his muscular compactness and 'Apparent ability to endure labor.' His countenance, when grave, has rather the expression of sternness and frascibility; a smile, however, (and a smile is not unusual with him in a social circle) lights it up to a very high advantage, and gives it a most impressive and engaging air of suavity and benevolence.

"Returning from France, Monroe retired to private life, but, in 1789, was called to serve as governor of Virginia.

"In 1801, Jefferson was elected president of the United States and one year later, Mr. Monroe was sent as minister to France to assist Robert R. Livingston in the negotiations for the purchase of New Orleans, as well as to negotiate with Spain for the acquisition of the Floridas.

"Following the conclusion of the treaty of 1803, by which the United States secured the purchase of the Louisiana territory from France, Monroe was dispatched as minister to England and later to Spain.

"In 1811, he was a second time chosen governor of Virginia, which office he held but a short time, being called to serve as secretary of state, he served also as secretary of war for the years 1814 and 1815. He was re-elected to the presidency by a virtually unanimous vote.

"A curious incident in the principle events marking the Monroe administration must list the defense of the Atlantic seaboard, encouragement of internal improvements, the Seminole War, the acquisition of Florida, the Missouri compromise, and relations with Europe regarding South American affairs. These latter resulted in what is known to the world as the Monroe Doctrine.

"And it is here, my friends, that we have laid our hand upon the outstanding act of Monroe's public life, which lends to him chief prominence as an historic American figure. For in his bold enunciation of the doctrine that America was for Americans, he cut his name high, in letters large and deep, upon the rock of national immortality.

"The period of Monroe's administration was era of good feeling, marked by unusual prosperity and by a dearth of party strife. During the period, five new states were admitted to the Union and vast internal improvements undertaken.

"Upon the conclusion of his second term as chief magistrate, Monroe retired to private life in Virginia. But during the year preceding his death, he was called once more into public service by being made a member of the Virginia constitutional convention.

"Monroe died at the residence of his daughter in New York. Twenty-seven years later, the remains of this great Virginian were brought to Richmond, where they now rest, close to the dust of Tyler, in Hollywood cemetery.

"Like Jefferson and John Adams, Monroe died on the Fourth of July. 'The day which he had helped to make, with sword and pen the chief red-letter day of the Republic.'

"He is a man whose soul might be turned wrong-side outwards without discovering a blemish to the world," observed Thomas Jefferson.

"Such a tribute from such a man must be accepted as conclusive of the spotless character and unblemished, immaculate morality of James Monroe.

"As a monument to the immortal fifth president of the United States, a notable pile could be erected that the historic fortress which bears his name.

"Guardian of the Virginian Capes, the guns of this stronghold, whenever they speak, sound their martial salute to the memory of him who was the first to declare in formal and unmistakable language that the frontiers of America were the frontiers of Freedom—that our soil was inviolable—that America should exist only for its own people.

"For next to the flag, next to Washington, next to the Declaration of Independence, I know of nothing which should be nearer and dearer to the heart of an American soldier than the name, fame and memory of James Monroe—the statesman of Virginia, the warrior of the revolution, the president of the United States—he who announced from the White House at Washington to the cilled world the doctrine 'America for Americans.'

Tobacco Plants Are Plentiful In This Section

The agricultural situation in the rural section contiguous to Danville is noteworthy this year for its lateness and the general retarding of growing crops on account of prolonged chilly weather, intermittent rains and the absence of warm sunshiny days which usually are in evidence long before this date. The tobacco plants are unusually numerous this year, having been spared decimation by late frosts, such as were in evidence last year when the plants themselves were complained of long before the transplantation season. The plants though numerous, are still quite small and the season is about two weeks late, according to experienced observers. Indications point to as large a crop of tobacco as the growers have conventionally grown. One noteworthy observation which has been made recently is the heavy demand for fertilizer which augurs a large crop. Local dealers report substantial increases in demand and one man states that he has sold double the amount he sold last year.

The wheat crop is described as fair only having suffered from the rain which has produced a yellowish tinge to the crop standing about eight or twelve inches high. The oat crop never large in this section, is neither as large as usual nor is it well developed at this time, though it will improve if reasonable weather is seen. An agricultural observer reported today that rye is being grown in increasing quantity in this section as a fertilizer farmers, appreciating its value to the soil and turning it under on tobacco land.

Forty miles north of Danville the agricultural season is at least two weeks ahead of this section and all growing crops appear to have reached a greater state of maturity. Some corn has been planted in the Long Island region.

Montes Asks For Leave of Absence

(By The Associated Press.)
HAVANA, May 2.—General Montes, secretary of war and navy, has asked for a leave of absence and his place will be filled temporarily by General Betancourt, secretary of agriculture, commerce and labor. It is stated at the office of the secretary of interior, while no official explanation was given it is understood that General Montes was moved by the alleged connection of his brother-in-law, Federico Laredo Bru, with the rebellious movement in Santa Clara province. Senor Bru is reported to have fled from Cienfuegos with a dozen others to evade arrest.

Almost 15,000,000 water fowls, mostly wild ducks, are killed for game in a year in this country. In a copper atom are 29 electrons, each one moving in its orbit with a speed probably greater than 39,000 miles a second.

Safe-Blowers Get Haul at Texas Co.

Two unknown cracksmen, believed to be white men and experts in their line, last night between 11 and midnight, effected an entrance to the office of the Texas Company, situated on the west side of Linn street, east of the Southern railway, and by diligent and silent work, succeeded in boring the small safe in the company's office, inserting nitro-glycerine to do a neat job and after blowing open the safe, extracted $250 therefrom and made a quick and quiet get-away.

The two men were observed in the office by George Mundy and another railroad man who passed by about 11:30 standing near the entrance to the office of the Texas Company, and by the Southern railway, and by diligent and silent work, succeeded in boring the small safe in the company's office, inserting nitro-glycerine to do a neat job and after blowing open the safe, extracted $250 therefrom and made a quick and quiet get-away.

The cracksmen did a neat job on the small safe, about 2 by 3 feet in dimensions. They had first rolled out of the office a large safe, and then the two men, who were working with a large hammer, succeeded in blowing open the safe, extracting $250 therefrom and made a quick and quiet get-away.

The cracksmen did a neat job on the small safe, about 2 by 3 feet in dimensions. They had first rolled out of the office a large safe, and then the two men, who were working with a large hammer, succeeded in blowing open the safe, extracting $250 therefrom and made a quick and quiet get-away.

The cracksmen did a neat job on the small safe, about 2 by 3 feet in dimensions. They had first rolled out of the office a large safe, and then the two men, who were working with a large hammer, succeeded in blowing open the safe, extracting $250 therefrom and made a quick and quiet get-away.

Clues Secured In Big Jewel Theft at Boocock Home

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., May 2.—Developments have come thick and fast in the last 24 hours in the sensational jewelry robbery at "Castalia," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Boocock, near Keswick, and it is confidently asserted by detectives who have been working on the case that an arrest may be made within a short time.

This information was gleaned from a conversation held this morning at the Gleason Hotel with three detectives, representing the Bureau of Investigation, who have been down investigating the scene of the extensive robbery. These are Messrs. G. J. O'Day and W. C. Pontra, of the Washington office, and Mr. A. Cook, of the Richmond office. They expressed themselves as very confident that a reliable clue had been discovered, pointing to the identity of the culprit. This party is supposed to have followed the party of the guests from the north on the occasion of the celebration and entertainment last Saturday.

So. Boston News

SOUTH BOSTON, May 2.—Two lots at the corner of Main and Arch streets were sold at public auction, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock by F. K. Edmondson. The property was bought by S. F. Gilliland and the Reams Furniture Company, for $6,500. In addition to the lots, this included the brick walls of the two buildings that were destroyed in a disastrous fire one the 10th day of last February. It was due to the heroic efforts of the local firemen that the entire block did not go up in flames. The buildings were then occupied by Johnson Furniture Company and the Green Grocery Company, their loss being about $1,000, the entire stock being completely destroyed.

The streets of South Boston are being put in first class shape by the street department. They have just finished grading Moore avenue, which has also been treated to a top coat of crushed limestone. Work is now in progress on Fifth street and Boulevard. The top dressing of crushed limestone makes an ideal surface, and when the program is completed, the city will have a system of streets that are in keeping with the streets in other cities of the same size.

The streets of South Boston have been afflicted with the painting fever, and the residential section is undergoing a transformation at the hands of men equipped with paint buckets and brushes. There are a large number of homes that were built in accordance with the architectural designs of early colonial days, also a large number of the modern type. The application of a coat of fresh paint will greatly enhance the appearance of these homes.

At the annual election of the editorial staff for "Chit-Chat," a monthly publication produced by the students of the C. H. Friend High school, the following officers were elected for the 1924-1925 terms: Mary Brooks, editor-in-chief; Thelma Loftis, art editor; Lenwood Lewis, assistant art editor; Charlie Penick, alumni editor; Jeanette Ingie, literary editor; Eva Watkins, local editor; Elizabeth Hale, exchange editor; Frances Hodges and Winston Overton, joke editors; Lucy Webb and George Kinn, athletic editors; Hopkins Crowder and John Hunt, junior editors; Nannie Martin and Dorothy Glenn, nanette editors; John Watkins and Virginia Crews, sophomore editors; William Johnson, freshman editor.

The last issue of "Chit-Chat" was issued and to have taken advantage of the absence of the guests on the auto ride to the Endless Caverns to accomplish his design.

According to the statement made by the detectives, a man was reported to have been seen running from the Boocock premises during the time the automobile expedition, which was from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Saturday, and in acting on this hint they believe that the guilty party has been spotted. The arrest is expected to take place in another city and apparently any suspicion which might have rested on any of the trusted employees at "Castalia" has been cleared up and removed.

The stolen jewels were the property of Lady Jane Williams-Taylor, wife of the governor of the Bank of Montreal. Lady Jane came to Virginia to attend the thirtieth anniversary of the purchase of "Castalia" by the Boococks.

The action brought by the heirs of the late John S. Cunningham, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cunningham, of Greensboro, against J. R. Long, of Roxboro, which has been tried in Durham Superior court this week, has ended in a victory for the plaintiffs, according to a statement by Charles Cunningham. He and Mrs. Cunningham attended the trial.

About 2,000 acres in Person county including the old Cunningham homestead, were involved in the litigation, which attracted unusual interest. The late Colonel Cunningham had sold lands to J. A. Long, now also deceased, under an agreement which would allow him to buy them back. When Mr. Long died, action was started under a parole trust.

Special lot of very smart hats, any number of styles and colors to select from, prices $5, $6.50 and $7.50.

Special For Saturday $3.95

Special For Saturday $3.95

Colored Church On Holbrook Street to Be Dedicated July

Plans are being made to dedicate the new Loyal Street Colored Baptist church on Holbrook street early in July, by which time it is expected that the imposing structure will have been completed. The church, when completed, will represent an investment of nearly $70,000 of which amount all but $20,000 has been raised already the balance being secured through a loan negotiated on the present property occupied by the congregation on Loyal street, next to Piedmont warehouse. It is proposed to have an "entering service" and then the dedicatory exercises.

Rev. C. T. Murray for more than four years pastor of the church recently announced to his congregation that he had accepted a call tendered him by the Carson Street Baptist church in Pittsburgh, Pa. He will not leave, however, until he has dedicated the church now in course of erection.

Alcohol insanity has not increased since prohibition, says a bulletin of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

A British chemist has been awarded the Davy medal for his years of research.

The Temple Shop

THIRD FLOOR MASONIC TEMPLE.

Coats, Suits and Wraps for Women and Misses

Dashing and original in fabric, Parisian in detail and, in every instance,
Remarkably low priced for Saturday.

There is scarcely a want or fancy that cannot be filled, with the range of garments still on our racks

1/4 Off
The regular selling price

Millinery

Special lot of very smart hats, any number of styles and colors to select from, prices $5, $6.50 and $7.50.

Special For Saturday $3.95

Special For Saturday $3.95

NATIONAL GARLAND WEEK MAY 5-10

Special Prices On All Garland Cooking Appliances For This Week.
See Our Advertisement In Sunday's Register.

Biedsoe Furniture Company

MRS. F. L. DOUTHAT
SOCIETY EDITOR.
Office Phone No. 2353
Residence Phone 706

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

SOCIETY NEWS
CLUB ACTIVITIES
AND PERSONAL

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

A. C. Seniors Entertained
Dr. J. P. Craft, president of Averett College and Mrs. Craft, entertained the members of the senior class this afternoon at a basket-ponies-supper spread on the green in a beautiful spot overlooking the city and the river. The party included Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Craft, Miss Edith Craft, James Craft, and the senior class of Averett College, 1924: Misses Gladys Bowden, Eastern Shore; Maggie Campbell, Western Virginia; Aletha Holmes, N. C.; Katherine Lohr, Isabelle Lohr, Mildred Lohr, Orange; Martha Beecher Madry, Marthart Nelson, City; Eddie Sovars, Kentucky; Ruth Swann, Carolyn Vann City, Gladys Teed, N. Y. and Coleida Wood, Lynchburg.

Mirabeau Hughes has returned after attending the marriage of his cousin, Miss Spottwood Roberts, of Chase City, and Dr. Ben Hill Conner, of Johnston City, Tenn. Mr. Hughes was one of the eight groomsmen in the wedding party.

James E. Covington has returned to the city after a business trip to Eastern Carolina.

Col and Mrs. W. T. Hughes returned last night from Chase City, where they attended the marriage of their niece, Miss Spottwood Roberts, which took place Wednesday evening in the First Presbyterian church of that place.

Col and Mrs. J. J. Holcomb, Miss Hattie Holcomb, Mrs. Eugene Withers and Mrs. J. H. Robinson left this morning for Lynchburg.

Music at Mt. Vernon
Sam Souss, organist of Mount Vernon Methodist church will use as a prelude at the evening service of worship the following numbers:
1—"Tannhauser" by Wagner.
2—"Barcarole" by Hoffmann.
3—"Minute" by Beethoven.
These voluntaries will precede the evening service and will begin at 7:15 o'clock.

Mrs. O. W. Dudley, Mrs. H. L. Boatwright, Mrs. Charles G. Evans and Mrs. S. R. Dula, returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., where they attended the National Conference of Federated Garden Clubs.
—Vance Steadman of Stuart, passed through the city last night en route to Los Angeles, Calif., where he will visit six weeks.
—E. A. Arrington, of Amelia Courthouse, was a visitor in the city today.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The following marriage license has been issued by the clerk of the Corporation court:
Charlie Hughes and Laura Thornton, colored, Danville.

REHEARSAL AT TABERNACLE

A general rehearsal for the pageant, "Signal Fires," will be held at Ridge Street Tabernacle this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

RED SEAL LYE

Hate Dishwashing?
Read This Carefully

NO longer is dishwashing a distasteful task to thousands of women. They now use Red Seal Lye to soften the water and loosen the dirt and grease. Then a quick rinse in hot water and the dishes and silver are not only immaculately clean but sanitary as well. Try washing dishes the "Red Seal" way.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
Things Our Readers Want to Know
Jobs that housewives used to dread—such as cleaning toilets, sinks and grates and pans—are now made easy tasks by letting Red Seal Lye do the "dirty work."

Red Seal Lye is the best odor-destroyer you ever used. And as a disinfectant there is nothing that approaches this handy household product in effectiveness.

Thrifty women by the thousands make their own soap right at home by using Red Seal Lye in combination with meat-scraps and grease.

The "Baby Doll" Bob

Ada-May, musical comedy actress, shows you the baby doll bob, one of the most subtle cuts, and one that is not immediately recognized as a bob, since the hair is longer than the slung or boy bob. It's very fluffy and girlish.

Fashion's Forecast

MURTY SUMMER DRESS
To wear with your sports skirt, you could find no smarter blouse than this, that at the same time is so easy to make. The diagram is a reduced likeness of the pieces of the pattern. Flannel or silk broadcloth would be smart. Linen or a linen-like material could be used too.
The pattern No. 2008 cuts in sizes 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 1 1/2 yards of 40-inch material. Price 15c in one or two cent stamps or coin (coin preferred).
The embroidery pattern No. 657 costs 15c extra.
Address Pattern Department, Care The Bee

DAWE'S NAME MAY BOB UP AGAIN SOON

Has Had Political Ambitions, Some Not Having Been Publicly Asserted.

By O. L. SCOTT
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
CHICAGO, May 1.—After successfully tackling Germany's reparations tangle, Brigadier General Charles Dawes, chairman of the expert committee on reparations, will be back from his "European vacation" this week to unravel his own business affairs accumulated during the months of his absence. He landed in New York late Monday.

The old home town would like to turn out its brass bands, stage some bang-up meetings and show its appreciation of the accomplishments of its most distinguished son—and turn hear what he has to say about the rest of the world. But that's not to be—according to the general's plans.

"General Dawes is a business man, returning from a business man's job. He is coming back to his bank and He is being mentioned frequently as a vice presidential running mate for President Coolidge bring a smile and a response in humor."

"Charlie Dawes as vice president?" "One of his bank associates. "They don't know him. "What is his political ambition? He has had to do not run alone this time. He couldn't be named or named himself sitting around for four years interpreting Senate rules."

Once he had a desire to be a senator. He was offered three years under President M. K. E. as comptroller of the currency. But he was defeated due to double-crossing, and has not sought political office since. Of course he served President Harding as the first director of the budget and served the government during the war as purchasing agent for the American Expeditionary Forces, but these were not political jobs.

So it looks as though the man who led the way to a solution of Europe's economic problems that is receiving the favorable consideration of most allied governments and of Germany, would come back to Chicago and quietly dive again into his private business, leaving public questions to take care of themselves so far as he is concerned—at least for the present.

HELPFUL HINTS

WASHING CHIFFON
Wash chiffon in warm soapy water and rinse in warm water in which a lump of sugar has been dissolved.

AVOID HEAVY BORDERS
A heavy border always makes a ceiling look lower so avoid it in rooms with low ceilings.

TARNISH ON BRASS
Tarnish on brass is a proof that the outside lacquer has been destroyed and that it should be refinished.

GET EXTRA LENGTH
When buying a carpet for the stairs get an extra step length more than you need and turn it under at the top or bottom, changing occasionally so that the wear will be distributed more evenly.

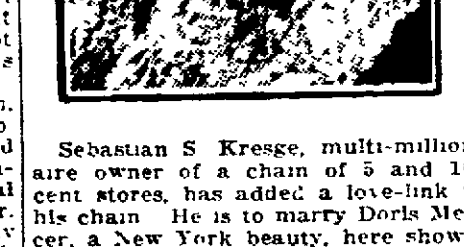

CLEANING LACE
Lace neckwear that is only slightly soiled may be cleaned by burying it for a week in cornstarch mixed with calcined magnesite.

KEEP UTENSILS HANDY
Always be sure to have your cork-screw and can opener where you can lay your hands upon them on a moment's notice and do not attempt to use a good knife to open bottles or cans.

ADD CARBOLIC ACID
Whitewash with a little carbolic acid added to it makes a most sanitary finish for a cellar wall.

MAKING CEMENT
A cement that proves most effective is made by making a thick solution of sodium carbonate to a paste with plaster of paris.

GOV. TRINKLE SPEAKS
(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., May 1.—Governor Trinkle was to return to Richmond tonight from Norfolk, where he spoke at a school meeting. Tomorrow, he will leave for Hampton, where he will present a portrait of James Monroe, in behalf of the Keckouhan literary circle to Fort Monroe.

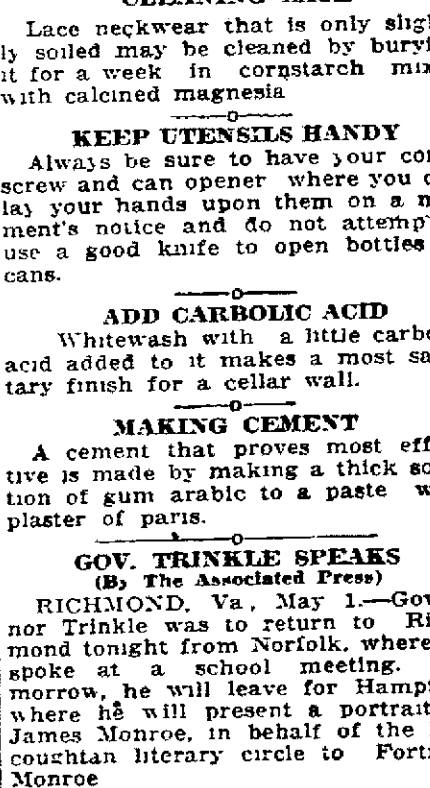

Sebastian S. Kresge, multi-millionaire owner of a chain of 5 and 10-cent stores, has added a love-link to his chain. He is to marry Doris Mercer, a New York beauty, here shown.

THE "BABY DOLL" BOB

years, his name may bob up again—at that time in some connection other than as a vice presidential candidate.

Whether Mr. Dawes himself shies that expectation isn't known. Just now he has his own business to tend to.

LOVE LINK
Sebastian S. Kresge, multi-millionaire owner of a chain of 5 and 10-cent stores, has added a love-link to his chain. He is to marry Doris Mercer, a New York beauty, here shown.

Sebastian S. Kresge, multi-millionaire owner of a chain of 5 and 10-cent stores, has added a love-link to his chain. He is to marry Doris Mercer, a New York beauty, here shown.

FASHION NOTES

BLACK AND WHITE
Nowhere is the combination of black and white more effective than on lingerie. Some of the most delicate and fragile lingerie of silk and linen is embroidered in black.

WIDE BANDS
Wide bands of embroidery with small designs and borders of plain color are being used instead of fur on the new coats.

CREPE LININGS
Printed crepe linings, particularly those on a white ground with figures in red and white, are much liked for coats.

LINEN DRESSES
Linen dresses with high collars and buttons for trimming frequently have white organdie collars and cuffs with edgings of Irish lace.

ENVELOPE BAGS
Envelope bags come in practically every size and some of them manage to contain many compartments and accessories and still retain the neat flat outline that is most distinctive.

GREEN COATS
There are many green coats this season with very small fur collars and a bit of red or black braiding.

SIDE BUTTONS
Side-buttoned frocks are a pleasant relief from the inevitable front buttoning. One snappy frock has a skirt buttoning on one side and the blouse on the other.

CRYSTAL BEADS
Crystal beads on pink georgette are a combination that fashion is powerless to put out of business. For young women particularly there is a charm to such frocks that is quite irrefragable.

FELT HATS
A very stunning hat of brick red felt is trimmed with small yellow and green apples.

SILK SCARFS
The newest scarfs of knitted silk have monograms cut work embroidered near the fringed hem.

PARIS COATS
Most attractive coats from Paris come in soft wools with an inner lining which fastens over and gives the effect of a dress beneath. Usually the coat is of plain color and the lining is checked or plaid.

TUCK-IN BLOUSE
There was a time when practically every smart blouse was an over-blouse, but the tailored suit has forced the return of the tuck-in blouse. It is more in keeping with the severe lines.

COLORFUL SHOES
There are many colorful shoes seen this season—not in the brilliant tones of last season, but in dull greens, reds and blues. They usually match the frock with which they are worn and there is nothing conspicuous about them.

SHORTER SKIRTS
Skirts get shorter as the days lengthen. From ten to twelve inches from the floor is now the correct length for tailored and sport things; and from eight to ten for formal gowns.

STRIPED GIRDLES
Roman striped girdles and scarfs are used effectively to make a dark frock more festive, and turbans and handbags of the same material are equally obliging.

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT
Doing what? Chewing it. Chewing gum. The new Chewing Gum with the flavor pressed in to stay. Say "Check-check-Checkerberry!"

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CONTINUED

Jack was silent a moment after he had made the comment on modern women, and then he asked:

"I wonder if it has made for greater happiness?"

"Not for the man, Jack," I answered quickly, "because his will finds it not now supreme. Woman has grown into something more than a possession. She must have a voice in her own life, and its direction."

With one of those sudden changes that always surprise me in Jack he said with a laugh:

"Well, I'll have to be very careful how I treat you, my lady. I would probably find you more implacable than Harry has Ruth. Come on, let's go and see the kid."

Little Jack had been asleep when Harry came home to dinner, and he had not seen the baby since his return.

If there anything more beautiful than a sleeping child? Its innocence, its helplessness, and its potentialities appeal to you most at that time.

Jack bent over the bed and laid his hand softly upon little Jack's damp curls. The baby stirred a bit in his sleep, then opened his eyes wide, and I swear a look of recognition came into his eyes. He raised his little arms uncertainly; then they fell back and he dropped asleep again.

Jack turned to me and threw his arms about me. "I am the happiest man in all the world, my dear."

"I am glad you did not say 'person,' because you could not be happier than I tonight, Jack."

After this bit of sentiment we began as married people often do to talk plans for the next few days. "I don't just know, Jack," I said, "how we are going to make excuses to your mother."

"Why, we'll just have to tell the truth. You didn't know that you would be called to New York when you telegraphed her to come. I'm quite sure that she will be content—at least she should be content with the baby and me until you return."

"You won't be gone long, will you, dear? For you know I'm going to be very busy at the office, and you know mother has never gotten over the idea that you should come first, even before business. She shall have to be home for meals very promptly, for mother has never been able to understand that anything in my life should come before her."

"That's another thing we women have changed," I said. "We do not make the question of prompt meals such a fetish as our mothers used to, and we are not so jealous of a man's business. We understand that after all, marriage is a business, and as a partner in it, we must work for the interests of all concerned."

"Good Lord, Leslie, are you getting strong minded?"

I raised my lips to John's. After a long kiss, I murmured, "Do you think so?"

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

SOCIETY NEWS
CLUB ACTIVITIES
AND PERSONAL

SKINNERS' EGG NOODLES

BROADWAY

Just Today

Katherine MacDonald

THE SCARLET LILY

NEWS

COMEDY

"Hoodman Blind."

A wonderful pictorialization of the famous stage melodrama.

IS THERE A FALLEN MAN AMONG YOUR FRIENDS?

"The fallen woman no longer falls alone," says Sophie Irene Loeb. She is president of the Child Welfare Board of New York City and has much information brought to her about fallen women—and fallen men.

You know the old fashioned stories of the fallen girl. But have you ever seen a play about a fallen man?

Yesterday men sowed wild oats as a matter of course, never taking the results seriously. Society seemed to say it was their privilege.

Things are changing. Today when men and women sin through love, do not many men suffer, too?

Take an actual story from real life of a young virginal man, with high ideals inculcated by his mother, who goes out to study humanity that he may fit himself to help mankind.

Gleam of Shadow-Silken Ankles
It happens he meets temptations in the form of a little jazz baby, a dance hall pet. He is stirred by the moan of the jazz horns, the faint perfume of femininity, the swirl of lifting drapery, the light tapping of soft shoes, the gleam of dainty shadow-silken ankles, and the swaying of graceful, girlish bodies in the dance. Everywhere lights, laughter and merriment.

Odd, too, but he is a young minister, and his eyes meet the eyes of the jazz baby. An older man whom he knows, winks and nods knowingly toward the dancing girls, particularly toward the one. He asks the young man how he can lead humanity unless he knows mankind, and how can he know mankind unless he has experience with it.

It is the old, old cry that has caused many a heart-ache, and wrecked many a life in love's game.

Moonlight—Flowers—and Silence
Later comes a moonlit night, the sound of distant love songs, gleaming gold on the water. He follows the girl. Fragrance of new flowers all about. . . a long embrace. . . darkness. . . and the silence.

Soon again he faces the world. He stands before admiring thousands in the robes of the Church. Only a close observer can see the anguish burning in the sombre eyes; but none can see the terrible yearning for that one wild love of his past calling in his heart.

No voice can so thrill, no eloquence so astound the world as his. The world's greatest honors and glories are before him, but to gain them he must sacrifice the only love of his life; for how can he take with him the scandal-stained girl with the illegitimate child at her breast?

And what of the strained little girl-woman looking scarcely bigger than the baby at her bosom? What of her tears? Her yearnings?

Secrets of the Fallen Man
Such as these are the secrets of the fallen man; and to know more about him, and about her, you must see D. W. Griffith's newest picture, "The White Rose," coming to the Broadway Monday and Tuesday. It is real, it is new, for this is the play of which Sophie Irene Loeb, greatest publicist and humanitarian, spoke regarding the fallen man.

You will understand their rapture, the shock of their awakening and the rousing glories of their love. Into this story enter gay parties, dancing, happiness and laughter.

"Aimed straight at the heart, it hits the mark," says the New York World.
"Easy ranks with the best pictures made in America," says the New York Sun.
And "splendid comedy," says the New York Times.
And this is the first important drama ever presented of the fallen man.

They tried it as a last resort!

... and won health!

When all else fails, Kellogg's Bran relieves constipation. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases, or your grocer will return your money. For Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It rids the system of those dangerous poisons which lead to other diseases.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful, nut-like flavor. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over every cereal. Try it in the recipes given on every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels and clubs. Sold by all grocers.

Kellogg's
the original BRAN—ready to eat

Look for this signature H. K. Kellogg

Grand Commander Fuller a Visitor

An official visit to Dove Commandery No. 7, Knights Templar, last night by Hon. Edward R. Fuller, of Richmond, grand commander, and J. Gus Hankins, of the same city, grand recorder marked the May stated convocation of that well known commandery and afforded an unusually pleasant evening to all who attended, among the number being W. C. Wooding, grand standard-bearer, and Right Minants E. H. Miller and A. W. Traylor, past grand commanders of the Virginia commandery. Among other veteran Masons and Knights Templar attending were E. G. Moseley and H. O. Kerns, the latter a former grand master of Masons in Virginia. Many fraternal friends from Martinsville, Chatham and various points in this and Halifax county attended. Grand Commander J. Shields Harvey, Jr., presided.

In the late afternoon a group of thirteen sat down to dinner at the Country Club as guests of the commandery, the group including Grand Commander Fuller, Grand Recorder Hankins, Commander Harvey, Grand Standard-bearer Wooding, Messrs. Miller and Traylor, stationed officers of the commandery, several past commanders and members of the commandery. The number determined not only from enjoying an admirably served and delicious menu along with a congenial social hour. Time was lacking for toasts or after-dinner talks, but the occasion was an exceptionally pleasant one.

At 8 o'clock the commandery was opened in due form, with a gratifying attendance of the uniformed knights, and out of deference to the distinguished visitors the routine business of such convocations was deferred. The grand commander made a felicitous and withal admirable and stimulating address to the fraternal group who gave him close attention and warm applause. The distinguished visitor was happily presided by Right Eminent A. W. Traylor. Following the grand commander, Grand Recorder Hankins, formerly a resident of Danville years ago, later secretary of the commonwealth in Virginia, and now actively identified with the Masonic activities of Richmond, made a brief but interesting address and was accorded a very cordial greeting.

Grand Commander Fuller is a member of the General Assembly and a man long active in the civic and State government and in business and fraternal circles in his home city. He demonstrated that he is not only an earnest and enthusiastic devotee of Templar Masonry, but a scholarly and thoughtful one as well, and is gifted with the graces of speech, including elegant diction and a good delivery, without pretensions to oratory. Mr. Fuller was very warm in his attitude for the entertainment accorded him and Mr. Hankins during their day in Danville and expressed the desire and the purpose to visit the city again. Out of the fullness of the heart, he paid an appreciative tribute to Templar Masonry and lauded its aims and purposes, rather regretting that its high principles and aims should be involved in any element of secrecy because of the universal enfeeblement and exemplary conduct they inculcated and stressed. In lieu of lifting the veil from the conclaves of the order, he exhorted his fraternal friends to living epistles of this Christian Masonry and thus afford the best and truest appreciation of its tenets and its admonitions and encouragements and the basic principles which in action, necessarily made the order great.

Grand Recorder Hankins spoke with dignity and impressiveness, albeit with amiability, reverting to his birth in the adjoining county of Halifax, his trips to Danville on business and of his attachment to the city through the residence here of his own and his father's friends and his "little brother" as he referred to Dr. W. O. Hankins. He too had words of appreciation for Templar Masonry and for the fine achievements of Masonry in Danville.

Right Eminent E. H. Miller declined to undertake a speech lest time be lacking for him to say what his heart might impel him to say, but he closed in a happy vein of reminiscence and pleasantry.

After dispatching considerable business usually marking such convocations, the commandery, after brief discussion, gave its approval to a petition of certain Martinsville and Henry county Templars to the Grand Commander to issue a dispensation authorizing the creation of a commandery in Martinsville. Sir Knight Roach, rector of the Episcopal church, spoke briefly and tactfully in support of the petition for approval of his fraternal friends of the commandery's action. The action taken was that if the grand commander (who was present and heard the subject presented) deem it wise he will grant a dispensation for the creation of the Martinsville commandery.

A GOOD AUDIENCE SEES "BLOSSOM TIME"

Last night's appearance at the majestic theatre of "Blossom Time," the second this season, was even a greater success than the initial performance last autumn. The play, a musical comedy in three acts, deals with Franz Schubert, a musical genius and his work. The show was one hour and twenty minutes late in starting, a traffic accident delaying some of the scenery. The audience had begun to grow quite impatient when the curtain was finally raised at 9:45 o'clock.

The performance abounds in music with such motifs as those of unfinished Symphony, Serenade, and other with the brighter gems. The task of unfolding Schubert's unhappy love and to sing his songs is entrusted to a highly capable cast, headed by Greek Evans as Franz Schubert and Miss Margaret Merle as Mitzi, one of three sisters, with a large supporting cast of able characters. The play was received with great enthusiasm and many in the audience were persons who had seen it on its last appearance here. The performance is quite unusual among musical comedy productions. The vocal talent, the songs sung captured the large audience. Evans, baritone and Arthur Carey, tenor, were while Miss Merle and Miss Fenita De Soriam had operatic voices of telling qualities. In fact lovers of music found endless delight in the renditions last night, the outstanding of which was "The Song of Love" the dominant theme throughout the play. "Serenade" is also cleverly woven into the play. While the performance is unlike the ordinary musical comedy, there is also a vein of comedy running throughout, which relieves the sentimental features.

Many were turned away from the theatre last night, all standing room being sold out. The only hitch, which was unavoidable, one of the trucks carrying some of the scenery breaking down.

Incipient Fire Is Snuffed Out

The otel Burton escaped a serious fire this morning by the timely discovery of a sudden flare-up in the lunchroom, confectionery and cigar stand of Robert Friedman located on the Main street front in the quarters formerly known as the Smoke Shop at 1:35 o'clock this morning. A group of police officers consisting of Sergeant Martin, Patrolmen Bates, Foster and Mayberry and Night Watchman J. H. Hutson had just met at the corner, when the blaze within manifested itself. Hutson quickly turned at Box 17 and the firemen made a remarkably quick response. The Patton street pumper piloted by John Malcom was out before the first 15 had finished sounding and in an incredibly short period the apparatus from the West End and the North Main stations reached the scene in a dead heat, almost as if they had been racing.

Quickly grasping the situation, the firemen and policemen effected an entrance by smashing the glass in the small entrance door, leaving the large show window plate-glass broken, and as the smoke began to rise in volumes the chemical hose was played on the incipient flames. Fire Chief Mitchell had arrived from Virginia avenue almost with the West End apparatus and took charge. Engineer Malcom attached a large hose-pipe with water so that as soon as the chemical was exhausted the smaller hose would carry water instead.

Within the hotel the guests, sans collars and ties, began to appear as the smoke rose and permeated the upper floors at the corner of the building, but the hotel employees reassured everybody as did those who had first come down, and there was no great excitement and little confusion. Manager Herbert Henkel and Owner C. G. Holland were on the job. Meanwhile the incipient flames were snuffed out and the alarming smoke which was manifested when the place was first entered was quickly abated. It developed that the damake, which is really slight, was confined to the lunch-room and cigar and fruit-store of Friedman. Some smoke and water and the injury from smoke about sum it up. It is not possible to give a money estimate of the damage, nor did C. M. Flinn, of the Waddill-Holland company, know how much insurance Friedman carried, if any.

The prompt response of the firemen and their intelligent work not only prevented a serious fire, but minimized the actual damage.

Many citizens were quickly on the scene, some not having retired after the theatrical performance, which ran until about 12:35.

FILL NEW POOL MONDAY

The large concrete lined and bottomed swimming pool recently completed in the Amusement Park of J. E. Rodgers will be filled with water for the first time on Monday. The opening of the park is to take place on May 15th but the swimming basin is to be filled with a view to seeing if mechanism used in filling it functions properly. The pool and its filtration basins were finished some time ago and the pump which will be used in drawing water from the nearby creek is already operating. The water will go through several smaller basins, thus permitting only clear water to flow constantly into the swimming pool where the water will be constantly changing. Several Danville people have recently visited the park and have been impressed with the size of the bathing pool.

CO-OP MEETING

Gilberts Local T. G. C. A. meets Friday night, May 2nd. All members are urged to attend. Speakers have promised to be with us.

J. W. BARBER, Sec'y-Treas.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baker 115 Powell avenue Wednesday, April 30th, a daughter, Virginia Doris Baker.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holderbey have returned after a motor trip to Richmond, Norfolk and Farmville.

SOME SWEATER

If His Highness was wearing this sweater at the time his horse threw him—well, everything is explained. Yes, it's the Prince of Wales and his very colorful golf sweater threatens to become fashionable.

CO-OP MEETING

A meeting of the members of Tobacco Growers' Co-Operative Association will be held at Ringgold schoolhouse tonight at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

W. H. WILSON, JR., Secretary.

Whitmell

Mrs. F. C. Beverley has been attending the Conference of Principals in Charlottesville.

Miss Virginia Morrison spent the week-end at her home in Collierstown near Lexington.

The operetta, "A Rose Dream," given by the primary pupils of Whitmell school last Friday evening, was very successfully rendered. The children showed excellent training and the costumes and scenery gave the impression of a real fairy land. Though the crowd was rather small, enough money was cleared to make a payment on a victrola. Misses Cheshire and Andrews deserve a great deal of credit for this well directed entertainment.

D. T. Williams addressed the farmers' Club Saturday night. He urged the members to greater loyalty to their organization.

The president of the Community League presented the purpose and plans of the Whitmell Building Committee, and asked the Farmers' Club to endorse the movement by appointing a committee to serve with the one of the Community League. The following members were appointed by the chair: L. G. Harvey, F. C. Beverley, F. L. Pollok, J. M. Farley, and S. B. Adams. The committee will meet at the school building next Saturday night at 7:30 to discuss further plans.

Leaders have been appointed to conduct the scoring of Whitmell Community. This is to take place at the meeting of the league, Friday, May 9. The scoring will be followed by a Community Rally on Sunday afternoon, May 11. Everyone is urged to attend both meetings.

"Vocational Guidance Week" has just closed at Whitmell. The speakers who visited the school during the week were: Dr. Smoot, pastor of Main Street M. E. church, representing the ministry; Dr. Howe Miller, representing the medical profession; Charles Evans, president H. M. I., representing the law profession; Miss Wilson, the nurse; and Miss Walker, librarian. These were the professions and vocations in which the students of the high school and seventh grade had expressed most interest. Each speaker outlined the qualities necessary, the training required, the best schools to attend, and the opportunity offered to those adopting it as their life's work. Each address was inspiring to both teachers and pupils, and it has indeed been a worth while undertaking. The co-operation of the Danville clubs in securing these speakers is especially worthy of mention, and is highly appreciated by Whitmell students, teachers, and citizens.

Miss Gladys Marsh, attended the Conference of Home Economics Teachers in Richmond last week. She reports an especially interesting meeting. One of the features of Vocational Guidance Week was the efficient manner in which the girls of the Home Economics Department prepared and served luncheons for the visitors, though the teacher was absent. This speaks well for the work of that department, our girls are getting training which is very worth while.

The women of the county are reminded of the meeting to be held in Chatham on next Saturday, Mrs. F. C. Beverley is to preside and Miss Mars is to make a talk. There should be something worth while for you there; you are urged to attend.

MOVING TO NEW QUARTERS

First signs of the approaching removal of the Chamber of Commerce from its quarters in the Holland building to the Masonic Temple are in evidence. The reading room table together with most of the furniture is in the hands of furniture men who are refurnishing it and removing it prior to removal. It is expected that the office will be removed on May 10.

SAND CARRIED AFAR

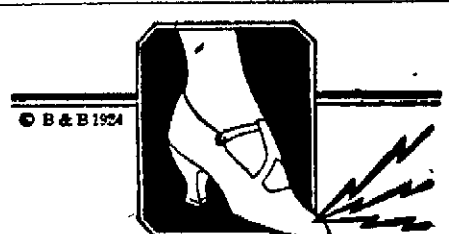

PIPLAR BLUFF, Mo., May 1. — Fire ants which fell here recently and stuck tightly to buildings, is believed to have been carried through the air for several hundred miles from the Texas panhandle. The sand gusts startled local citizens during a bad storm.

SENATE RATIFIES REPORT ON BONUS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The conference report on the soldier bonus bill was ratified today by the Senate. Similar action by the House, which will receive the report tomorrow, would clear the way for dispatch of the measure to President Coolidge.

There was no record vote on the conference report. Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, said he "opposed the report just as I opposed the measure." Other senators took the opportunity to explain why they were in favor of enacting the insurance bill, although they viewed it as "far from meeting campaign pledges and a fraud upon the soldiers." Among these were Senator Reed, Missouri, and Harrison, Mississippi. Democrats. The latter expressed particular regret that the provision for charge of compound interest on loans to soldiers had been restored by the conferees after it had been stricken out by the Senate.

Corns

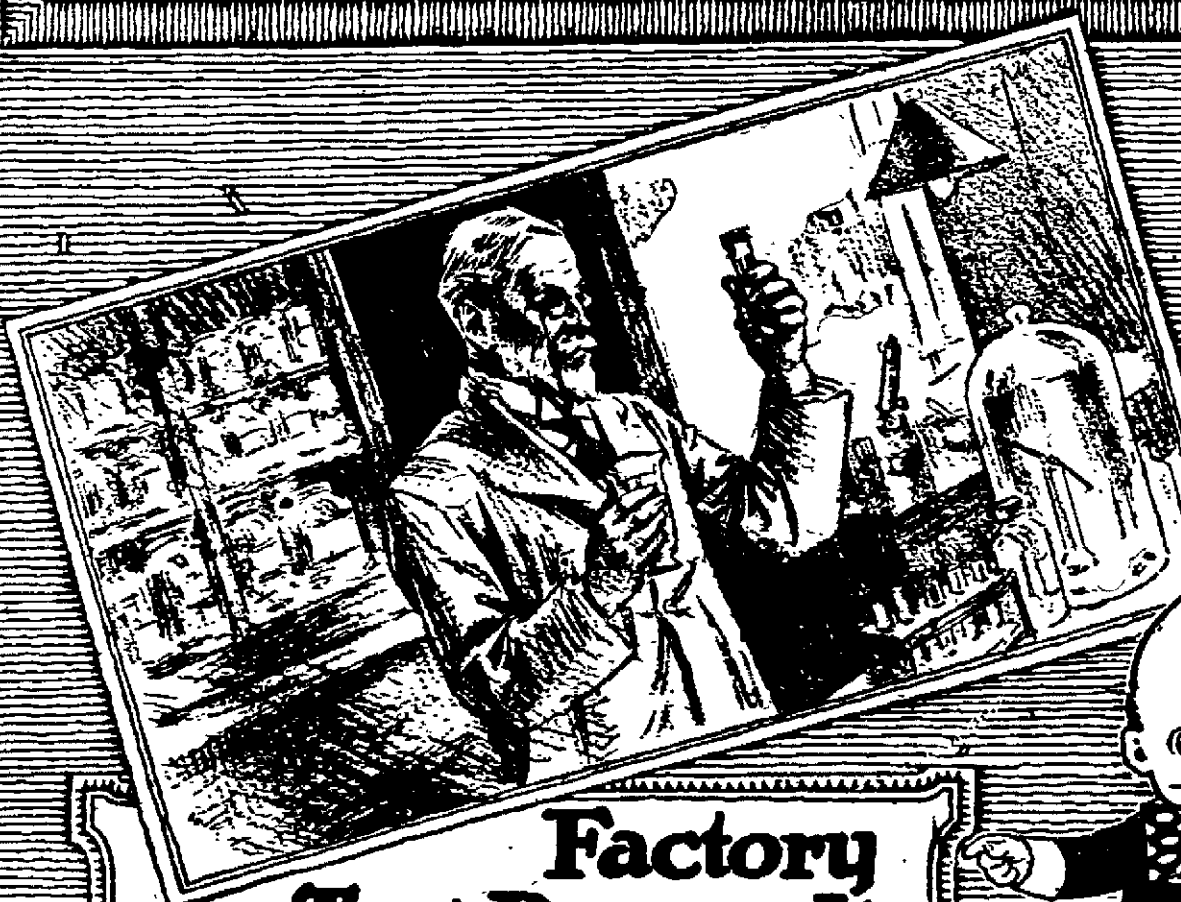

Don't Pare Them!

Cutting a corn is always dangerous. Blue-jay ends corns. Kills the pain instantly, then the corn loosens and comes out. No risk, no constant trouble. Get Blue-jay at your druggist.

Blue-jay

Best By Test

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

Factory Test Proves It

EVERY housewife knows that the strength of spices, extracts, etc., varies. It is not always the same. This is true of materials used in the manufacture of baking powder. But it is never true of Calumet Baking Powder.

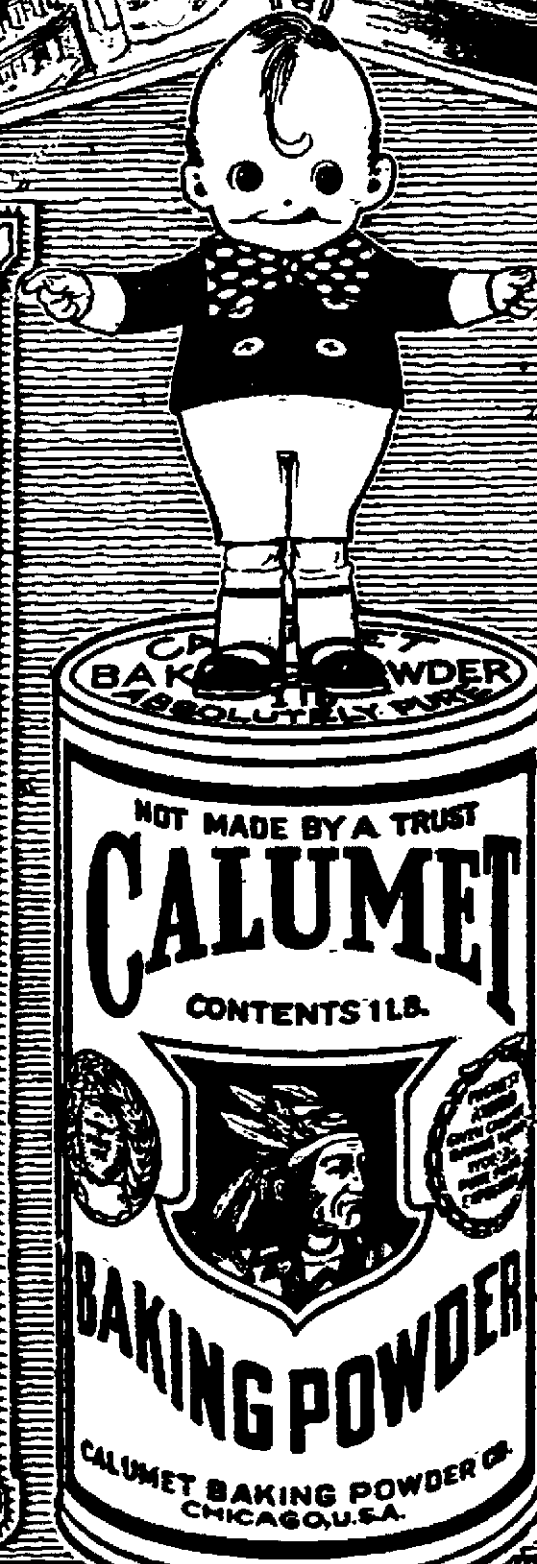

Every ingredient used in the manufacture of Calumet is critically tested in our own laboratories by expert analytical chemists. Every material that enters into the manufacture of Calumet must measure up to a definite standard of perfection.

After the various ingredients are combined Calumet is again tested for chemical purity and uniformity; then it is tested by our own chefs, in our own kitchens for baking quality.

There can be no variation of quality. Every can of Calumet is the same—its keeping qualities are perfect. The last spoonful is as good as the first.

Look Out For This

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Home Test Proves It

CALUMET has no "near" competition. There is no baking powder as good—or nearly as good. You obtain decidedly better results. Your bakings are much lighter, flakier, finer in flavor, more palatable. You'll be surprised at what a difference there really is.

Millions of housewives use Calumet. Not because someone told them it is better—not because someone else uses it, but because it has proved itself "Best by Test"—because it gives the best baking results at lowest baking cost. This is why the sales of Calumet are 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

You save when you use it—has more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less. You save materials it's used with, never fails.

Made in the world's largest and finest baking powder factories.

Order a can. Overcome bake-day uncertainties—bake-day loss.

CALUMET

BAKING POWDER

FLAPPER FIGURE PASSES OUT OF STYLE

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

The "Aenemel 32" has succeeded the "Flapper 34" that recently snatched the honors from the "Perfect 36". Women will be girls, it seems. The well developed figure with its generous curves and Venus proportions that our fathers worshiped is quite out of the running according to New York, who selects and grooms the girls for the Ziegfeld Follies.

He was called in as counselor extraordinary to select half a dozen eligibles from several hundred girls who applied for positions as models for a fashion show to be held in New York in May.

And let me assure you the boyish forms have the preference with him. The Americans adore slenderness, he explained. He himself is a perfectly husky looking individual who doesn't count his own calories unless he is mightily mistaken.

The Follies girls of next season will all be 32's. It's the ideal size for the modern costumes and the tendency in costumes reflects the taste in femininity.

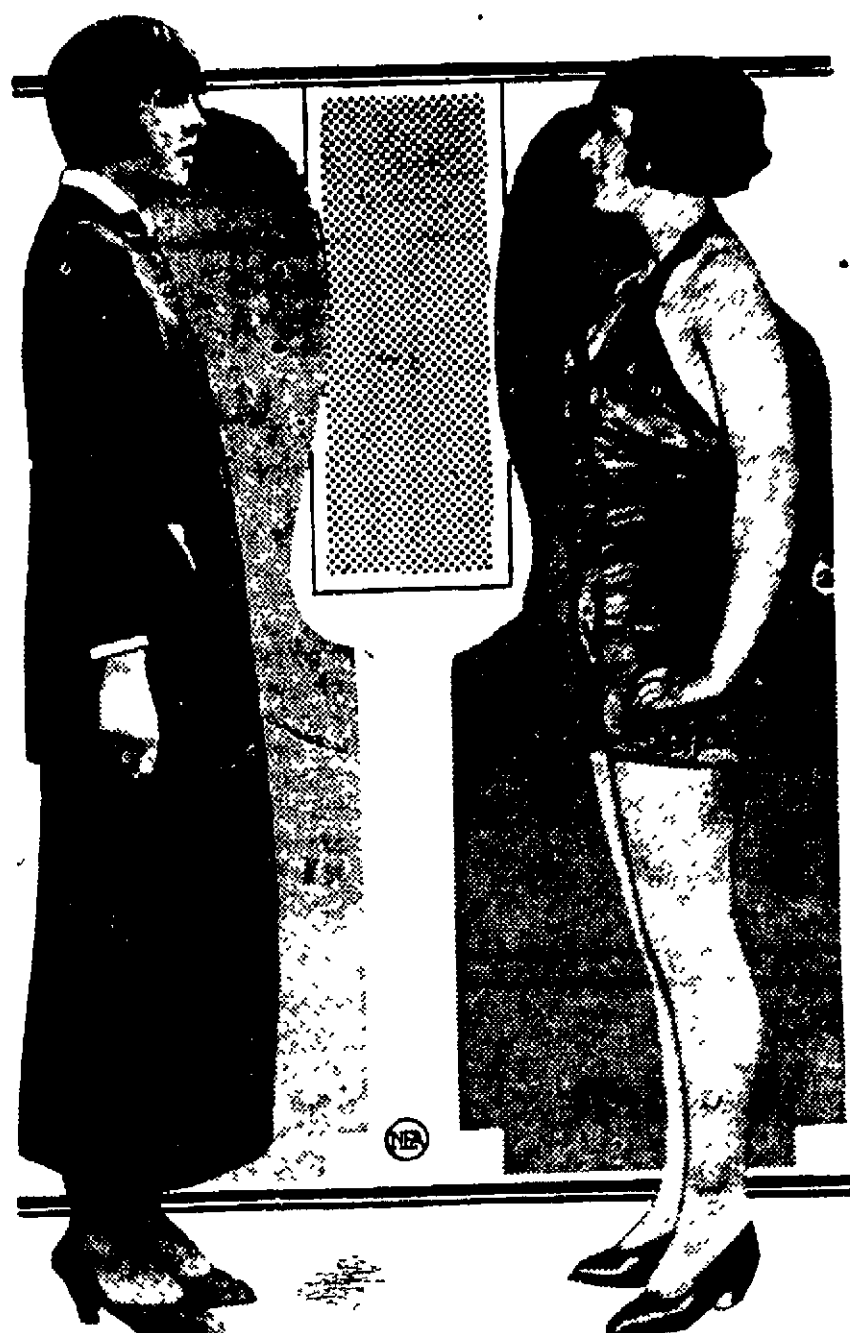

Roberta Haynes of Brooklyn was selected by him as one of the most possible 32's—although she is not aenemel looking, in the least. Her chest measure is a gift of the gods and not the result of dieting or banting.

From the beauty contest I want to point out Martha Ferra, the Italian girl who is amazing New York with her focus of strength and who in spite of the fact that she can lift elephants and the how knots out of iron bars, is a most attractive looking woman, with no bulging muscles or over-developed areas.

She is five feet five inches tall, weighs 12 pounds and has a bust measure of 38 inches—exactly the measurement of her hips. When I asked her what she thought of the aenemel 32 she laughed.

A 32 in a woman—it's a child, she said. "If a girl's bust is not more than 32 inches through her shoulders she is either sick or carries herself badly. She can have no strength, vitality, endurance and to me beauty unless she has a normal development."

The 32's are very unpopular in Europe, because there they expect a woman to be a woman—not an undeveloped girl. You can't produce healthy, splendid children from a least avoidupous has gone out of style—you must be avoidupous.

MISS ROBERTA HAYNES LEFT. MARTHA FERRA, 'PERFECT 32' TYPE. RIGHT.

Overnight Features

By The Associated Press

William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, will succeed John T. Adams, of Iowa, as chairman of Republican National Committee, if President Coolidge is nominated for the presidency, White House announces.

Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister for Belgium, reach London, for conference with Prime Minister MacDonald, on reparations settlement based on Dawes plan.

Senate adopts conference report on bonus bill which goes to House for final action.

Vincent Richards, tennis star withdraws his resignation from United States Olympic team and Davis cup squad.

Death toll of Wednesday's storm in Southeastern states is estimated at 109, many of the 500 reported as injured are in serious condition.

Body of Eleanor Aylesworth, 16-year-old high school girl, missing since February 26, and for whom nation wide search was made, is found in Susquehanna river, near Binghamton, N. Y., her home.

Henry M. Bylesby, prominent electrical engineer, dies suddenly in Chicago.

Ralph Greenleaf of Philadelphia, retains world's pocket billiards championship at Detroit, by defeating Benjie Allen, of Kansas City, one time champion.

Active search is begun for Major Major Frederick L. Martin, commanding U. S. Aerial Squadron, seeking to fly around world, and Sergeant Harvey, mechanic, who left Chignik, Alaska, for Dutch Harbor, Wednesday.

HEALTH AND VITALITY FOR WOMEN

Health and Vitality can be yours without narcotics or drugs. Keeping well is largely a matter of keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to women as evidenced by headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, backache and irritability. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such conditions and restoring sick and ailing women to health. It surely pays every suffering woman to try it—adv.

FOR SKIN TORTURES

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, just What You Need

Don't worry about Eczema or other skin troubles. You can have a clear, healthy skin by using Zemo obtained at any drug store for 35c, or extra large bottle at $1.00.

Zemo generally removes Pimples, Blackheads, Blisters, Eczema and Ringworm and makes the skin clear and healthy. Zemo is a clean, penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is easily applied and costs a mere trifle for each application. It is always dependable. Zemo Soap, 25c—Zemo Ointment, 50c.

COOLIDGE UNABLE TO ATTEND VA. FESTIVAL

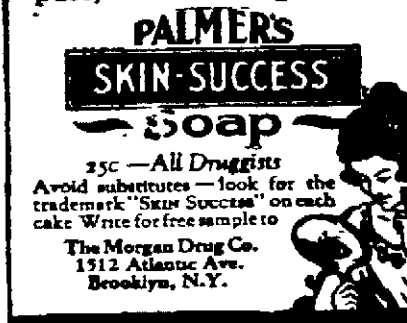

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Announcement was made at the White House tonight that President Coolidge had been compelled by pressure of other affairs to decline the invitation, extended to him today by Senator Glass and a delegation from Winchester, Virginia, to attend the annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom festival Saturday at Winchester.

Secretary Stempel in making the announcement said the president regretted his inability to attend the celebration but had found he could not spare the time.

Is Your Skin Healthy?

A healthy skin is the surest safeguard against infection. A pure, non-irritating soap is the only insurance for a healthy skin. Keep the pores as well as the surface of your skin clear and healthy by the constant use of the pure, non-irritating 25c—All Drugists. Avoid substitutes—look for the trademark "Skin Success" on each cake. Write for free sample to The Morgan Drug Co., 1512 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

TRAFFIC COP WINS HOME IN POPULARITY CONTEST

By ROBERT T. SMALL

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Once again it has been proved that New York has a heart. A traffic cop with a pothole and the husky youngsters, has won a $40,000 home in a popularity contest. It is the finest home a cop ever lived in and it will take his particular cop from one of the busiest intersections of Manhattan's tangled traffic out to one of the quiet spots of Long Island.

Traffic cops are not supposed to have any friends. It is their privilege and generally their pleasure to bawl out the lowly and the mighty. But one cop has been different. He has believed that he smile behind the torriding he would win and he has won it in a contest of fifteen years.

He has been directing traffic at one place at Lafayette and Grand streets where there is a terrific cross current of passing trucks and other motor cars. He has been a stalwart figure, a human lighthouse in a swirl of chugging wheels, but never once has he been known to lose his temper.

It is extraordinary enough for a cop to win such a wonderful prize, but one of the secrets back of the winning contributes the prettiest part of the tale. It was unintended to be a contest, but it was the garrulous announcer, the babbling brook of station WJLN heard about it and broadcast it far and wide over the radio.

It seems that Dr. John A. Harris, honorary deputy commissioner of public of this city in charge of traffic, heard that Patrolman Oscar C. Hettler of Traffic Squadron A was running neck and neck in the voting contest conducted by a candy concern with a commercial artist. The deputy commissioner who is a very wealthy man and works for the city without pay decided that the cop should win.

Dr. Harris bought 6,000 pounds of candy in one fell swoop. This entitled him to something like 500,000 votes. He plunked them all for Oscar and that was the comfortable margin by which Oscar won. Dr. Harris was not to buy just enough to put the cop over the top or to be more exact, under the roof he was determined there should be no doubt as to the result. The other contestants were shown under the traffic cop was elected and the traffic police co. in winner was the happiest man on Manhattan Island.

Dr. Harris is the man who evolved and put into operation the traffic tower system which has spread from Fifth avenue to all parts of the country. Fifth avenue traffic had become almost an impossible jumble. Each corner cop was a giant in his own right and could flash the signals to go or stop at will. Vehicles often were held up at each corner. The tower system was devised and now traffic moves all at the same time from Washington Square all the way up to Central Park.

Dr. Harris is proud of all his traffic cops, but he regards Hettler as typical. He is kind, genial, cool and intelligent.

It was one thing to buy three tons of candy all at one time but quite something else again to get rid of it. Commissioner Harris flooded the island with packages for the unfortunate contained in the city institutions. Three thousand pounds went to the island. Now the other 3,000 pound packages are being distributed to other charities.

It is estimated that the deputy commissioner's contribution to the contest cost him roughly about $5,000. Many persons voted for Hettler without knowing his name. They sent in the ballots for the traffic cop at Lafayette and Grand streets. Stately and early traffic cops the country over should take note.

LIGHT THOUGHTS
"What he ye think of, Jene."
"Nothin' much."
"Why won't ye thinkin of me?"
"I were 'The Passing Show' (London)"

It seems that Dr. John A. Harris, honorary deputy commissioner of public of this city in charge of traffic, heard that Patrolman Oscar C. Hettler of Traffic Squadron A was running neck and neck in the voting contest conducted by a candy concern with a commercial artist. The deputy commissioner who is a very wealthy man and works for the city without pay decided that the cop should win.

Dr. Harris bought 6,000 pounds of candy in one fell swoop. This entitled him to something like 500,000 votes. He plunked them all for Oscar and that was the comfortable margin by which Oscar won. Dr. Harris was not to buy just enough to put the cop over the top or to be more exact, under the roof he was determined there should be no doubt as to the result. The other contestants were shown under the traffic cop was elected and the traffic police co. in winner was the happiest man on Manhattan Island.

Dr. Harris is the man who evolved and put into operation the traffic tower system which has spread from Fifth avenue to all parts of the country. Fifth avenue traffic had become almost an impossible jumble. Each corner cop was a giant in his own right and could flash the signals to go or stop at will. Vehicles often were held up at each corner. The tower system was devised and now traffic moves all at the same time from Washington Square all the way up to Central Park.

Dr. Harris is proud of all his traffic cops, but he regards Hettler as typical. He is kind, genial, cool and intelligent.

It was one thing to buy three tons of candy all at one time but quite something else again to get rid of it. Commissioner Harris flooded the island with packages for the unfortunate contained in the city institutions. Three thousand pounds went to the island. Now the other 3,000 pound packages are being distributed to other charities.

It is estimated that the deputy commissioner's contribution to the contest cost him roughly about $5,000. Many persons voted for Hettler without knowing his name. They sent in the ballots for the traffic cop at Lafayette and Grand streets. Stately and early traffic cops the country over should take note.

LIGHT THOUGHTS
"What he ye think of, Jene."
"Nothin' much."
"Why won't ye thinkin of me?"
"I were 'The Passing Show' (London)"

It seems that Dr. John A. Harris, honorary deputy commissioner of public of this city in charge of traffic, heard that Patrolman Oscar C. Hettler of Traffic Squadron A was running neck and neck in the voting contest conducted by a candy concern with a commercial artist. The deputy commissioner who is a very wealthy man and works for the city without pay decided that the cop should win.

Dr. Harris bought 6,000 pounds of candy in one fell swoop. This entitled him to something like 500,000 votes. He plunked them all for Oscar and that was the comfortable margin by which Oscar won. Dr. Harris was not to buy just enough to put the cop over the top or to be more exact, under the roof he was determined there should be no doubt as to the result. The other contestants were shown under the traffic cop was elected and the traffic police co. in winner was the happiest man on Manhattan Island.

Dr. Harris is the man who evolved and put into operation the traffic tower system which has spread from Fifth avenue to all parts of the country. Fifth avenue traffic had become almost an impossible jumble. Each corner cop was a giant in his own right and could flash the signals to go or stop at will. Vehicles often were held up at each corner. The tower system was devised and now traffic moves all at the same time from Washington Square all the way up to Central Park.

Dr. Harris is proud of all his traffic cops, but he regards Hettler as typical. He is kind, genial, cool and intelligent.

It was one thing to buy three tons of candy all at one time but quite something else again to get rid of it. Commissioner Harris flooded the island with packages for the unfortunate contained in the city institutions. Three thousand pounds went to the island. Now the other 3,000 pound packages are being distributed to other charities.

It is estimated that the deputy commissioner's contribution to the contest cost him roughly about $5,000. Many persons voted for Hettler without knowing his name. They sent in the ballots for the traffic cop at Lafayette and Grand streets. Stately and early traffic cops the country over should take note.

LIGHT THOUGHTS
"What he ye think of, Jene."
"Nothin' much."
"Why won't ye thinkin of me?"
"I were 'The Passing Show' (London)"

It seems that Dr. John A. Harris, honorary deputy commissioner of public of this city in charge of traffic, heard that Patrolman Oscar C. Hettler of Traffic Squadron A was running neck and neck in the voting contest conducted by a candy concern with a commercial artist. The deputy commissioner who is a very wealthy man and works for the city without pay decided that the cop should win.

Dr. Harris bought 6,000 pounds of candy in one fell swoop. This entitled him to something like 500,000 votes. He plunked them all for Oscar and that was the comfortable margin by which Oscar won. Dr. Harris was not to buy just enough to put the cop over the top or to be more exact, under the roof he was determined there should be no doubt as to the result. The other contestants were shown under the traffic cop was elected and the traffic police co. in winner was the happiest man on Manhattan Island.

Dr. Harris is the man who evolved and put into operation the traffic tower system which has spread from Fifth avenue to all parts of the country. Fifth avenue traffic had become almost an impossible jumble. Each corner cop was a giant in his own right and could flash the signals to go or stop at will. Vehicles often were held up at each corner. The tower system was devised and now traffic moves all at the same time from Washington Square all the way up to Central Park.

Dr. Harris is proud of all his traffic cops, but he regards Hettler as typical. He is kind, genial, cool and intelligent.

It was one thing to buy three tons of candy all at one time but quite something else again to get rid of it. Commissioner Harris flooded the island with packages for the unfortunate contained in the city institutions. Three thousand pounds went to the island. Now the other 3,000 pound packages are being distributed to other charities.

It is estimated that the deputy commissioner's contribution to the contest cost him roughly about $5,000. Many persons voted for Hettler without knowing his name. They sent in the ballots for the traffic cop at Lafayette and Grand streets. Stately and early traffic cops the country over should take note.

LIGHT THOUGHTS
"What he ye think of, Jene."
"Nothin' much."
"Why won't ye thinkin of me?"
"I were 'The Passing Show' (London)"

It seems that Dr. John A. Harris, honorary deputy commissioner of public of this city in charge of traffic, heard that Patrolman Oscar C. Hettler of Traffic Squadron A was running neck and neck in the voting contest conducted by a candy concern with a commercial artist. The deputy commissioner who is a very wealthy man and works for the city without pay decided that the cop should win.

Dr. Harris bought 6,000 pounds of candy in one fell swoop. This entitled him to something like 500,000 votes. He plunked them all for Oscar and that was the comfortable margin by which Oscar won. Dr. Harris was not to buy just enough to put the cop over the top or to be more exact, under the roof he was determined there should be no doubt as to the result. The other contestants were shown under the traffic cop was elected and the traffic police co. in winner was

Continuing Our After Easter Offering Tomorrow

SPRING COATS

"Smart Style Coats" dashing are these styles in the season's most wanted coatings. Shades the very newest—Formerly sold up to $47.50. Sale price—

$27.50

Plaid and striped Coats, very smart for the young miss nicely lined with silk in shades that are most pleasing. If it is a coat for the miss, be sure to see this lot. Sale price—

$19.75

Odd lot of Spring Coats, good styles with and without lining, excellent for motoring, etc. This lot coats are sold at big loss and much less than cost. Sale price—

$13.75

SPRING SUITS

Suits in the season's newest creations, styles and tailoring the very best. The most wanted small plaids, checks, stripes, etc. Formerly sold up to $57.50. Sale price—

$32.50

Suits that are very smart, nicely made lined with good quality crepe silk throughout in checks, plaids, stripes, etc. Formerly sold up to $32.50. Sale price—

$16.75

Tailored Suits in navy and black only, sizes 16 to 44 in Pointe Twill beautifully made nicely lined with heavy crepe silk. These suits are placed on sale at a give away price. Formerly sold up to $57.50. Your choice—

$16.75

These offerings are genuine reductions for quick selling in many instances at less than cost. Entire stock of Dresses, Millinery, etc., included. We invite you to come today or Saturday. This sale will positively close Saturday.

Danville, Va. BROWN'S Danville, Va.
HATS AND GOWNS

DOLLAR STORE McCRORY'S DOLLAR STORE

See Our Union Street Windows For Other Remarkable Values!
Bargains Galore SOMETHING NEW EVERY DAY Bargains Galore

FIRST QUALITY Window Shades 59c.
Dark Green, White and Ecru, Complete With Fixtures.

Serving Trays GLASS BASE, MAHOGANY FRAME, FELT BOTTOM, SIDE HANDLES, 89c.
Size 10x16. Positive $1.00 Value

Semi-Cut Glass Vase $1.00
10-Inch Semi-Cut Glass, looks just like genuine, has the sparkle, ring and cut.

Jardiniers Beautifully Glazed New Colorings and Designs, 10 inch, 89c.
Unusual Dollar Value.

Yellow Mixing Bowls 10-Inch, FINE GLAZED FINISH 39c.
A Kitchen Necessity

Embroidered Pillow Slips Beautifully Embroidered Pillow Cases, embroidered on both sides, fast color emb., fine quality muslin, 45x36 The usual 60c kind 59c.

Fashionable HOSE THE FAMOUS IPSWICH DE LUXE No. 859, made of the highest grade pure thread silk and a strand of fibre to increase wear, splendid extra elastic tops, high spliced heel, double heel and toe— 89c Pair.

(Sold Everywhere At a Dollar) "Oh, yes" we have all the new shades—Peach, Dawn, Nude, Gray, Atmosphere, Fawn, Indian Skin, Log Cabin and many others.

Universal Gingham Ready-To-Wear Dresses Charm-ing, Serviceable House Dresses Real Bargains $1.00 Each

Duroleum Rugs 24x54. A big practical fine looking Rug for the kitchen, 50c

Seamless Sheets FULL BED SIZE, Good Grade Muslin $1.00
The $1.39 Quality

Ripplette Bed Spreads Heavy Quality Ripplette, 54x90, Ideal for Summer, $1.00
Positive $1.39 value

Casseroles DEEP BROWN, WHITE LINED 59c.

Fruit-of-The-Loom Cases 45x36 MADE WELL 33c Each
You Know the Value

Real Linen Bureau Scarfs Finished With Dainty Two-Tone Lace Edge, $1.00
$1.39 Value. Size 18x50

Meritas 5-4 Table Oilcloth This Well-known Quality Tale Oilcloth with Printed Back, 49c Yd.
Will Give Excellent Service!

HEAVY QUALITY ALUMINUMWARE Not the usual cheap grade offered at special sales, but a heavy durable line that will give service. All items below are the panel style with rubberoid handles.

2 and 3-Qt. Coffee Percolators $1.00
3-Qt. Convex Kettle with cover .75
5-Qt. Tea Kettles $1.00
2-Qt. Double Boilers $1.00
6-Qt. Convex Sauce Pan with cover $1.00
3-Qt. Convex Sauce Pan with cover $1.00

See our display and other items in this line.

LADIES' VESTS Fine Ribbed Silk, Stripe Silk, Crochet Neck and Arms, Silk Ribbon Rims, sizes 34 to 44 .29 CENTS.
"Buy Your Requirements Now"

SHOP HERE SATURDAY Thrifty shoppers will find an endless variety of new and seasonable merchandise at lowest in the city prices.

Your Photograph

A Mothers' Day Gift

REMEMBER way back when some one took a brownie photo of yourself? Remember the tin type with its quaint pose? How mother still loves those pictures!

Today your Photo made here, will give her as much pleasure and as much true happiness—for the box of daguerrotype days is the boy grown up

We suggest that you make your appointment for a sitting early enough to present your Photo on Mothers' Day Sunday, May 11.

Dunford's Studio

317 MAIN ST.

PONE 382.

PASTE THIS IN YOUR HAT

and you can't go wrong—"A triple-strength flavor lasts three times as long. That's why it's the best choice for a Checkersberry Chewing Gum lasts."

GRIND those values if you want your car to hum like new. Let us do it for you. Our auto service is the kind of service you want and need!

"Service is our Slogan."

Truck & Tire Co.

W. Union St. Phone 1783

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Despite his sobriquet of "Cautious Cal," President Coolidge is a jay-walker.

And jay-walkers, or so at least the traffic experts tell us, are anything but cautious.

Anyway, just the the departments were letting out the other evening and sidewalks and streets were jammed with pedestrians and flivvers. Cal decided to shake the kinks out of his legs before dinner by a brief hike.

Instead of following the sidewalk, as he emerged from the east gate of the White House grounds on Pennsylvania avenue, to the cross-walk where pedestrians are supposed to cross, Cal struck straight out from the curb for the other side.

Brakes squealed and horns honked as drivers swerved or slowed up to avoid collision. But Cal, flanked right and left by a secret service man, held his course. At the middle of the street, he had to pause to let a stream of vehicles pass. At the first opening, however, he plunged in again and made the curb.

Which incident may or may not mean anything. At the time I witnessed it, however, it struck me that maybe Cal isn't so awfully cautious after all. At least that was one time when he certainly "took a chance."

Less cautious, perhaps, is Hon. J. L. Phillips, Republican State chairman for Georgia.

Phillips called on Coolidge, during a recent visit to Washington, to report the condition of the G. O. P. in that Southern State.

"Georgia," Phillips said after leaving the White House, and presumably voicing the viewpoint he imparted to the president, "has distinctly Republican leanings, and may be expected to break away from the Democratic fold and lead a revolution which will sweep away forever the political tyranny which has bound the south since the days of reconstruction."

He declared he believed the time had arrived when the Republicans of Georgia are ready to arise in their strength, and "place that state permanently in the Republican ranks."

Now the question is: Are all the political prophets out of step except Phillips? Or did Phillips visit with Cal and his consequent faith in a Republican victory cause his optimism to outrun his caution?

A new battery of runner-ups for the Republican vice-presidential nomination has appeared during the past week.

From Indiana, proposed as a balance to offset the influence of Ralston on the Democratic side, Albert J. Beverage and Jim Watson, the latter a Hoosier senator, the former an ex-senator. Beverage supposedly "progressive," Watson admittedly "conservative." The convention may take its choice.

More seriously, however, outside circles of Hoosier influence, is the suggestion of General John J. Pershing put forward.

Pershing, his friends believe, would make up in force and physique the physical elements of appeal which Coolidge lacks. "Cal and Jack," they opine, would make a great team.

However, Charley Dawes, whose vice-presidential possibilities were discussed in these letters two weeks ago, still looks to be the best bet.

The irony of fate! At a time when more political and personal bitterness is present in Washington than at any time in history, the Fine Arts Commission selects a site here for a statue of "Serenity!"

The statue, which it is hoped may exert a calming influence on the capital, will be placed in Meridian Hill park.

GRIFFITH PLEASED WITH STAN HARRIS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—"No Washington ball club ever played a smarter game of ball during my connection with the club," remarked Clarke Griffith after the conclusion of the opening game of the season.

"If the team continues that style of play, whether in victory or defeat, the fans are going to more than approve my selection of Stanley Harris as manager."

Washington beat the Athletics 4 to 0. In so doing Manager Harris made it seem that base running was to be a part of the Nationals' offense. Harris has his club running. The hit-and-run is going to be a part of his attack.

Likewise, the much despised steal is to get a strong play. Of late years this stunt has become so antiquated that it is almost in the nature of a surprise attack.

Twice in the opening game of the season Sam Rice, the outstanding speed merchant of the Nationals, got on. Each time on the first ball pitched he made a break for second and got away with it.

Rice turned the trick at the expense of the best throwing catcher in the American League, Cy Perkins. "We are going to try to mix things up this year. Taking chances win ball games. That's our aim," says the kid manager.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—A huge arctic whale, said to be the first ever found away from the vicinity of the eternal ice fields of the north pole, was killed near the Farallone islands, 14 miles west of San Francisco, by the whaler Traveler recently.

DON'T ASK FOR TOILET PAPER
SAY
KEWPIE
BATH ROOM TISSUE

LONDON'S POLICEWOMAN IS HERE FOR AMERICAN IDEAS

By ROBERT T. SMALL

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, May 2.—London's first and foremost police woman has been a tremendous disappointment to her American cousins of the "finest."

Probably the shock of the Atlantic was mutual.

For Commandant Mary S. Allen, head of the women's auxiliary service of the London metropolitan police, considers herself an officer of the force and garbs herself accordingly.

Commandant Allen is a "bobby" and is proud of it. She dresses like a bobby, with variations of detail in the uniform of her own designing. She doesn't wear bobbed hair. She goes further than that. She wears it short cropped like a man, with a sort of teutonic pompadour.

Commandant Allen was met at the dock by Mrs. Mary Hamilton, head of the New York police women. The contrast was striking. Mrs. Hamilton was handsomely attired in the latest spring fashion, fur coat and everything. There was nothing about her to suggest the "cop"—just a fine, refined, motherly woman.

Which illustrates the difference in the viewpoint of London and the American cities as to the effectiveness of the woman police officer. In London, she is a policeman. In American cities she is a detective. Her presence is denoted in London by the uniform. Her presence is hidden in New York by the approved feminine garb for the occasion. If it be an evening assignment, the New York police woman is there in décolleté gown, the latest of coiffures and with satin slippers feet that suggest anything but the time honored flat feet of the "force."

Perhaps Commandant Allen will take back to London some of the American ideas, for she has come here to study police conditions and methods in a number of the eastern and middle western cities. The commandant was given a reception by the New York policewomen seen after she landed and if she took their breath away when she strode in almost masculine attire, she too, was astonished at the fuss and feathers of the lady cops.

The London visitor wore a long blue coat with double rows of brass buttons. The coat was long enough to hide the sport skirt beneath. High patent leather boots were worn tightly laced. But the real masculine effect was attained by the mannish hair and a uniform cap, with visor and insignia, much after the fashion of the American naval cap.

The last touch of astonishment to the New Yorkers came when Commandant Allen carefully and with extreme coolness fixed a monocle in her right eye. She was then "Lord Algy" to the life.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

By ROBERT T. SMALL

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, May 2.—London's first and foremost police woman has been a tremendous disappointment to her American cousins of the "finest."

Probably the shock of the Atlantic was mutual.

For Commandant Mary S. Allen, head of the women's auxiliary service of the London metropolitan police, considers herself an officer of the force and garbs herself accordingly.

Commandant Allen is a "bobby" and is proud of it. She dresses like a bobby, with variations of detail in the uniform of her own designing. She doesn't wear bobbed hair. She goes further than that. She wears it short cropped like a man, with a sort of teutonic pompadour.

Commandant Allen was met at the dock by Mrs. Mary Hamilton, head of the New York police women. The contrast was striking. Mrs. Hamilton was handsomely attired in the latest spring fashion, fur coat and everything. There was nothing about her to suggest the "cop"—just a fine, refined, motherly woman.

Which illustrates the difference in the viewpoint of London and the American cities as to the effectiveness of the woman police officer. In London, she is a policeman. In American cities she is a detective. Her presence is denoted in London by the uniform. Her presence is hidden in New York by the approved feminine garb for the occasion. If it be an evening assignment, the New York police woman is there in décolleté gown, the latest of coiffures and with satin slippers feet that suggest anything but the time honored flat feet of the "force."

Perhaps Commandant Allen will take back to London some of the American ideas, for she has come here to study police conditions and methods in a number of the eastern and middle western cities. The commandant was given a reception by the New York policewomen seen after she landed and if she took their breath away when she strode in almost masculine attire, she too, was astonished at the fuss and feathers of the lady cops.

The London visitor wore a long blue coat with double rows of brass buttons. The coat was long enough to hide the sport skirt beneath. High patent leather boots were worn tightly laced. But the real masculine effect was attained by the mannish hair and a uniform cap, with visor and insignia, much after the fashion of the American naval cap.

The last touch of astonishment to the New Yorkers came when Commandant Allen carefully and with extreme coolness fixed a monocle in her right eye. She was then "Lord Algy" to the life.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

The British women police came into being with the first year of the war, and taking to the uniform, then, have stuck to it ever since. The duties of the lady "bobbies" in London are much the same as their cousins of the force over here. They have general supervision of women prisoners in and out of court, regulate dance halls and other places of amusement and look after the welfare of women traveling alone. One phase of their work is the guardianship of women who have attempted suicide.

Commandant Allen was much amused to find that the New York police women are largely engaged today in snaring "mashers" as such a heinous offense. Here in New York it is regarded as sufficiently bold and bad to have many of the prettiest copperettes assigned to the work and each copperette has a man detective with her to handle the masher should he become rough. Commandant Allen has much to learn of American morals and manners. London being much older than American cities, is perhaps less prudish in her ways.

English women on any sort of public duty like to wear the uniform. This flair came to them during the war when they took up so much of the work left by the men who were called to the colors. American women followed suit after a fashion. Red cross workers who went abroad to inform the communities of the navy designed one of their very own and the ambulance drivers in this country were natively attired in riding breeches, coats and overshoes caps.

LAST MINUTE PHOTOS WHO'S WHO WHAT'S WHAT IN THE NEWS

Presented With Models of Holstein Cows

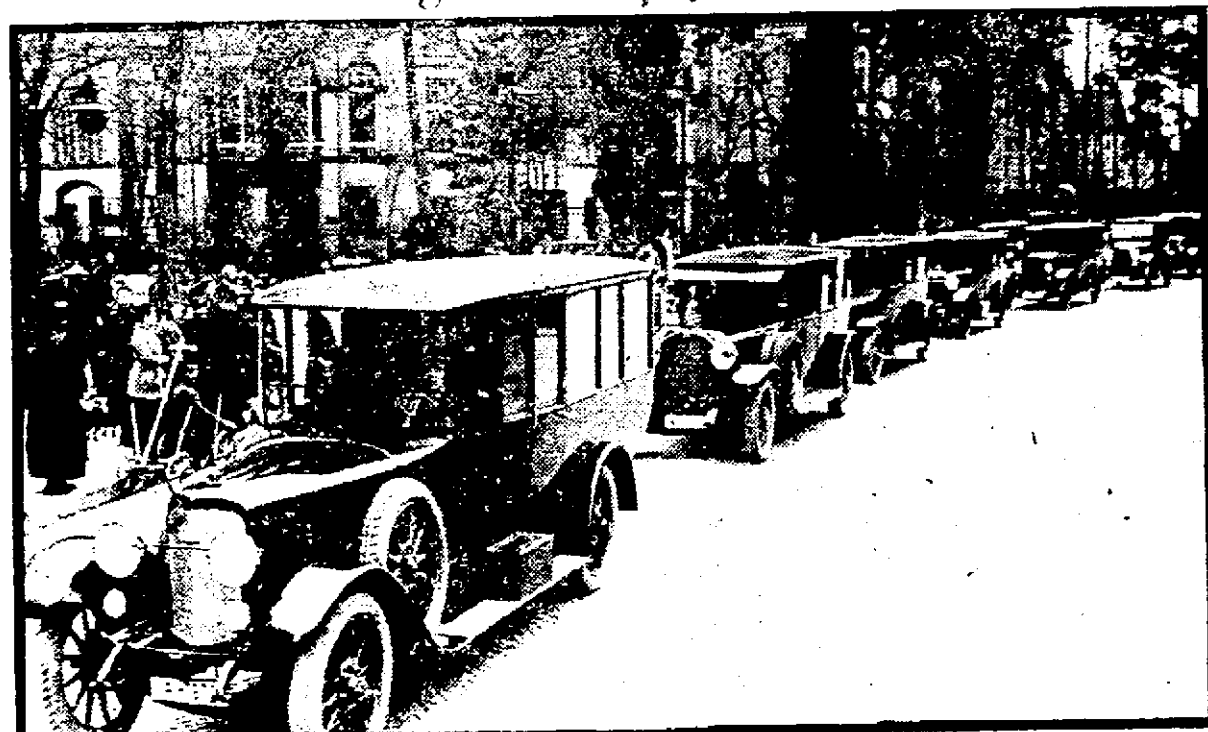

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace (center) in Washington, D. C., being presented with models of Holstein cattle by T. E. Elder (left) and Fred Pabst (right), members of the Cattle Breeders' association.

Put Bonus Through Senate

Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Democrat (left) and Senator Charles Curtis, Republican, who were largely responsible for the overwhelming majority the bonus bill polled in the Senate.

The Passing of Europe's Richest Man

This is first and exclusive photo of the funeral of Hugo Stinnes, Germany's leading financial figure, in Grunewald, a Berlin suburb. In hearse body was taken to cemetery for cremation.

Radio Queen Ruthless

Radio Queen Ruthless, shown in a scene from a recent contest at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

Mediator

Sumner Welles was sent to Honduras as mediator to investigate disturbances and near civil war between rebel and de facto forces in that country.

New Trial

The motion for a new trial, by Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, is the only thing that stands between him and freedom. Miss Nesbit's attorney charges that the verdict was contrary to the evidence.

Saving Daylight Here a Big Job

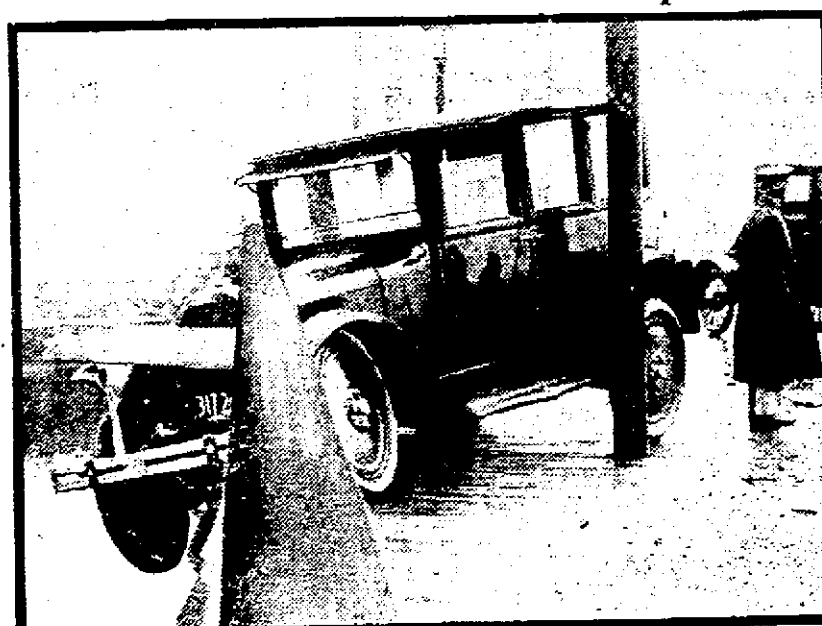

Hands weighing a third of a ton had to be moved forward on Colgate & Co. clock in Jersey City when daylight saving time went into effect.

Aerial Hobo Rides From Coast to Coast

Lieut. Frank Benedict (above, in N. Y.) just completed an air tramp from California to New York by flying in borrowed planes and getting hops from friendly pilots. He will return the same way.

Two Had Narrow Escape

Death was cheated, no mistake, when this auto containing two persons crashed through bridge rail at Somerville, Mass., and halted, poised over river.

Chosen as Prettiest Girl

In a recent contest at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh Miss Rosalyn Scott was adjudged the most beautiful of the co-eds. Judges were Charles Dana Gibson, Tony Sarg and Coles Phillips.

Food for the Youngster

Mrs. Kangaroo in N. Y. Zoological park can be hardly called selfish, even if she is pulling at tidbit in keeper's hand, for it's for young one in her pouch.

Father of Twenty-four Children

Angelo Magnano (above) became father of his twenty-fourth child, on his seventy-second birthday in Middletown, Conn. He's been married three times.

Intimate Scene From the Next War, or Proving Sherman Was Wrong!

Seven ambitious young rifle experts of the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, showing that you can flirt with one eye and aim with the other.

(Copyright: 1924: Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

To Spend Nickels For Bride

Anniversary Sale to Be Conducted By Edward A. Farley

Edward A. Farley has completed plans for a large anniversary sale which is to be conducted simultaneously by all of the stores in the chain, these now numbering about 100 situated in twenty different States. It will be a celebration of thirty years of continuous service by the Farleys who were among the first to grasp the opportunities which the chain store idea offered, one of bulk buying and re-offering of handsome values at unusually low prices, based on a method of payment well suited for these unable to meet substantial obligations in a lump sum.

The Farley store chain is the largest of its kind in the world. It was developed from a small store which was started with the prime object of giving better values for less money but the highest personal service to each individual customer. It was on this principle that the original Farley store developed into a chain of nearly one hundred which are thriving, a fact which is considered a glowing testimonial to the success of the undertaking.

The Danville store was opened about ten years ago in the Burton block. It grew in patronage and was moved comparatively recently to quarters lower down on Main street opposite the Bijou theatre. The concern deals with ready-to-wear goods, suits of fine textures being offered at low prices, despite the extended payment plan which is a feature of all the Farley stores. In addition to suits, dresses, coats, wraps, men's and women's shoes of standard makes are dealt in and present other exceptional values. Edward A. Farley gives the local store his personal supervision, H. B. Giles being local manager. The Farley extended payment plan provides for a small sum being paid upon the purchase of the clothing and the payment of some in regular installments under a formal contract entered into by the purchaser. This extended payment plan was devised by the Farleys and has proved an effective means of bringing goods of good quality within the range of those unable to incur obligations through the usual credit mediums.

Mr. H. B. Giles, the local manager, extends a cordial invitation to all to attend the big celebration.

BRITON FINDS PROHIBITION
HAS BEFITTED AMERICA

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, May 2.—After a four months' tour in the United States, Dr. Charles Porter, medical officer for Marylebone, is impressed by prohibition in that country. Speaking on the subject he said:

"You might as well say that because Bernard Shaw has written a play or two, Shakespeare was a failure." Porter declared the customs officer he met on landing smelt very strongly of alcohol, "but because the first individual in New York who spoke to me had been drinking, I do not think prohibition there is a failure."

ON LOCATION
FIRST NEW YORKER—I wish I wuz in Council Bluffs.
SECOND DITTO—if you wuz there you'd only wish you wuz here.
FIRST—Yeah. That's why I wish I wuz there.—Judge.

The eastern part of Syria, cut off from the sea winds by mountains, is completely dry.

DAILY PUZZLE

PLACET ORE
STAT ORDINE
ORE STABIT
ORE ATABIT

The sign reads: PLACE TO REST
AT OR DINE. O REST A BIT OR EAT A BIT!

Rich Milk, Malted Grain set in powder form, makes The Food-Drink for All Ages. Digestible—No Cooking. A Light Lunch always at hand. Also in Tablet form. Ask for "Horlick's" at all Foodstuffs. NEVER Avoid Imitations—Substitutes.

DORIS MERCER, BRIDE OF SEBASTIAN S. KRESGE, FIVE-AND-TEN-CENT STORE MAGNATE, AND KRESGE.

DETROIT, April 30.—Sebastian S. Kresge, multi-millionaire five-and-ten-cent store magnate, used to toast his lunch only cost him 21 cents a day.

And he always kept his golf balls longer than any other member of his club.

Business, evangelism and prohibition were his favorite topics.

But three months ago, his friends discovered he had ordered 14 tailor-made suits. He began to spend his money right and left. And he buried his nose in the books of Verdi and the plays of Ibsen.

All of which his old associates couldn't fathom at all.

The answer, however, has just come—in the news of his recent marriage in New York to Doris Mercer, a young divorcee with grand opera ambitions.

She has a fair voice, as reported, but she never has managed to reach even an opera chorus. But Kresge, emulating Harold Fowler McCormick, romances.

McCormick, after his children were grown, lived apart from his wife. So did Kresge.

McCormick was separated from Edith Rockefeller McCormick in just 10 minutes in the fastest divorce hearing Chicago ever witnessed.

Kresge was parted from his former wife in just the same length of time—in the briefest divorce hearing in Detroit's history.

Kresge started his first store here. He married Anna Harvey in Memphis, and took her in as his partner. He soon opened up another store in Memphis, and then began to branch out in other cities. Today he operates a chain of 223 stores.

Now the former Mrs. Kresge sits quietly at home with her children as Kresge plans to spend his million in obtaining an operatic career for Mrs. Kresge No. 2.

BOOTLEGGING OF DISEASE
GERMS WORRYING DOCTORS

By ROBERT T. SMALL.

(Copyright 1934, By The Bee.)
NEW YORK, May 1.—The medical profession in New York is all upset over the machinations of that amateur chemist—Clarence O. Baring, who made such free use of his wife as a germ receptacle.

Some laymen, or nature curists who always have been skeptical of the germ theory, say that Baring's experiments on his unsuspecting but trustful spouse show clearly there is nothing in the germ idea after all.

Doctors declare that Baring, on the other hand, has proved the French theory that the introduction of several diseases in the human body results in immunization from that particular disease.

In any event there must be an explanation as to why trillions of various sorts of germs could be fed to Mrs. Clarence O. Baring without having the slightest effect upon her. The million each of diphtheria and pneumonia germs and emptied the vials into a nice mess of porridge, which he set before his wife. These failings, he also employed such well known germs of cholera, influenza, scarlet fever and typhoid.

But it all was to no purpose. Watch as he could, Mr. Baring could see no symptoms of the various diseases which he had selected for his experiments. Perhaps he administered the germs in too large doses, but naturalists rank amateur as he was could scientifically subtract a few millions or billions of germs from the trillions he had and were released at his command. The tiny winged messengers of pestilence and death never less utterly failed to do any of the things expected of them.

Mr. Baring, according to the stories told the indicting grand jury had to resort at last to old fashioned arsenic and was even too lavish with that, for it too had the opposite effect of what was intended.

The inevitable specialists have been called into the case and are given opposing opinions as to whether Mr. Baring is sane or not. Be it as it is, the health authorities are aroused as to the manner in which such dangerous disease germs can be handled about town in the hands of amateurs. There are all sorts of laws, local, national and state against liquor and narcotics, but disease germs today are enjoying an immunity from legal control which may easily attract the attention of a congressional investigating committee and he made the subject of a constitutional amendment.

Without waiting for such a denouement, however, Health Commissioner Monaghan, of New York city, has decided to take a hand in the case and may recommend a local ordinance dealing with the dealing in germs will include exhibition of all home brewed germs as well. The possession of test tubes and retorts and germ vials would be prima facie evidence of an intent to break the law.

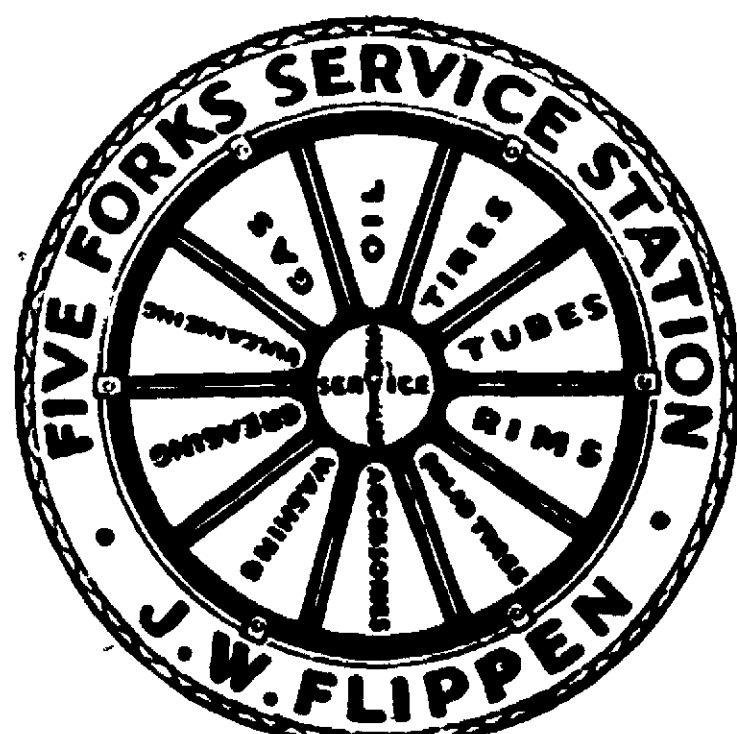

The bootlegging of germs would be made a penitentiary offense.

Mr. Baring obtained several trillions of germs, which in prohibition parlance, would be termed a false with-

STABILITY IN POLAND LAID TO INTEGRITY OF PEOPLE

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, May 2.—Poland, like Austria and Hungary, is struggling with the problem of financial reconstruction and, according to Antoni Wieniawski, the Polish member of the permanent economic advisory committee of the League of Nations, is slowly winning through the united and patriotic efforts of the people and government.

Baby Loves
A Bath With Cuticura
Soap

To the Ladies of Danville
And Vicinity

The A&B Store will give away with each purchase of a Ladys Spring Coat, Dress or Suit a Silk Scarf worth $5.00 and more while they last. This great store is always eager to help you—ever ready with the newest, most seasonable merchandise at low prices—You may open a charge account on terms to suit your convenience.

This Store of TRUST IS Anxious for You to Open a Charge Account

The A&B Store

312 MAIN STREET,

DANVILLE, VA.

Come in and get acquainted and see how easy it is to open a Charge
Account on our Dignified Service

This Store Offers
Its First Reduction of the Season

Ladies' Waists, Values Up To $10.00 $2.98

Beginning tomorrow, for the balance of this month—the word "value is a by-word." Every department contributes to this occasion with extraordinary specials and worth-while reductions in the

Ladies' Skirts, Values Up To $15.00 $6.95

May Sale—A Wonderful After-Easter Event

A Special Feature
Smart
Attractive

Dresses

for Every Occasion

$25

Values up to $49.50. Mostly one of a kind, taken from our regular stock for this offering.

Beautiful $40 & $50

COATS

Models for dressy or sport wear—charmingly individual and every one of phenomenal value—

May Price—

Rich, New Colorings.
The Smartest
Weaves—

$29.50

All Sizes for Women and Misses

HUNDREDS TO CHOOSE FROM

A Style and Value
Event Without Parallel In SPORT

COATS

It's a Rare
Occasion, $10
Indeed.
All $25
Values

SUITS

That Are Different.
A Sale Unrivaled

$25

Were up to $45.00

OTHER

SUITS

A Wonderful Event

$35

Reduced from $59.50
$69.00.

May Sale
Ready-to-Wear

Hats

All Our $5.00 and
$7.50 Values

$4.59

$5.00 Beautiful Silk

Chemise

Crepe de chine
Radiums, $2.95
Silk. The Quality of Silk Used
Is the Best.

Girls' $2.50

Dresses

Ginghams that will wear and launder well. $1.50
Scores of Pretty Styles in Small and Large Checks

Dear Mr. Sheik,
I appreciate the honor
an everything. But seem' as how we travel in thetotally different circles
so t'speak, I shall hafta
ask you to set on a tack.
Sincerely
Sam Perkins.

AFTER DUE CONSIDERATION
MR. PERKINS
REPLIES TO
THE SHEIK'S PROPOSAL.

WHERE THA
SAMA HILL
AM I GONNA
MAIL
THIS TO A PLAQUE
TAKE IT!

TRUE, THE
HON. SHEIK
GAVE NO
ADDRESS

WOT THA-?

FRECKLES AND FRIENDS By Blosser

SEE WHAT POP GAVE ME, JOMBO-A WHOLE
QUARTER! WE'LL GO DOWN T' TH' CANDY
STORE AN' BUY ALL KINDS OF STUFF

I AINT FOOLIN' EITHER-
SEE TH' QUARTER THERE?
GEE, I NEVER IN ALL MY LIFE HAD A WHOLE QUARTER
T' SPEND FOR CANDY-A WHOLE QUARTER!!

WHOOOOP- GET
IT JUMBO-T SPOOD
OUTA MY HAND

CONFECTION

A Full Page The Gumps and Gasoline Alley Every Saturday In THE BEE

GASOLINE ALLEY

EVER ON THE DOCKOUT

NO TRACE OF SKEEZIX AS YET. THE POLICE ARE CONFIDENT OF APPREHENDING HIS ABDUCTORS AND RETURNING HIM SOON TO HIS FRANTIC UNCLE WALT. WALT SEETHING WITH ANXIETY WANTS TO DO SOMETHING TO FIND SKEEZIX BUT DOESN'T KNOW WHICH WAY TO TURN.

I'D GO TO THE ENDS OF THE EARTH FOR THAT LITTLE FELLOW BUT I'M NOT CERTAIN THAT HE'S NOT CONCEALED RIGHT HERE IN THE CITY.

I CAN'T HELP LOOKING FOR HIM WHEREVER I SEE KIDS. IT'S ONE CHANCE IN A MILLION BUT I'M TAKING BIG ODDS THESE DAYS.

I KEEP WATCHING WINDOWS IN THE HOPE THAT IF SOMEBODY IS KEEPING HIM PRISONER I MAY CATCH A GLIMPSE OF HIM PEEPING OUT.

AND I KEEP SEARCHING FOR BIG GRAY TOWN CARS THOUGH MME. OCTAVE'S MUST BE HUNDREDS OF MILES AWAY BY THIS TIME. OH, BUT I HOPE THEY'RE NOT ABUSING HIM!

BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK FLUG

Too Much Scotch For Barney

By DeBeck

ALL I SAID TO YOU WHEN YOU WENT PAST WAS "HOOT MON" AND YOU ROLLED OVER LIKE YOU'D BEEN TICKLED WITH A SIX SHOOTER- WHAT'S EATING YOU?

HOOT-MON-HOOT-MON THE NAME OF THAT HORSE IS DRIVING ME CRAZY!! I'M READY FOR THE BUG HOUSE THAT WALRUS, MACTANISH!! DIDN'T HE COME OVER TO THIS COUNTRY WITH THAT BEAST OF HIS TO RAGE MY SPARKY? AND WHY DON'T HE SIGN UP FOR THE MATCH? I HOPE WHEN HE GOES BACK TO SCOTLAND THE BOAT KISSES AN ICEBERG.

HOOT-MON! MON HOOT! BAAH -- I'M GOING HOME AND NURSE MY RADIO - GET THIS SCOTCH STUFF OFFA MY MIND.

AND THE RULERS OF SCOTLAND - THE DATE IS THAT OF ACCESSION - IN 1472 A.D. JAMES THE SECOND IN 1460 A.D. JAMES THE THIRD.

COME AHEAD CALLAHAN! IN 1472 A.D. JAMES THE FOURTH. IN 1513 A.D.

SALESMAN SAM

Sam Makes a Bull's-Eye

By Swan

THE BATTLE IS ON! SENOR PEDRO FIGHTS HIS BULL TODAY. SAM HOPES TO FIGHT HIS TOMORROW. THE FATE OF A BEAUTIFUL SPANISH MAIDEN LIES IN THE HANDS OF THESE TWO MEN WHO WILL WIN?

OH- HE'S WINNING! STOP HIM!! LEAVE IT TO ME

YEAOW!

BUENOS TOROS COVOTE HOMBRE THAT'S THAT UNA LA BULL

WHICH SHALL IT BE-RADIO OR MOVIES?

THERE'S A MOVIE DOWN-TOWN. I MUST SEE AND THERE'S A RADIO CONCERT I'VE GOT TO HEAR-NOW, LET'S SEE-WHAT'LL I DO?

SH! DON'T DISTURB PAPA

POOR PAPA- HE HAS SUCH BIG PROBLEMS

DO YOU PROMISE TO LOVE, HONOR, AND SPEND MONDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY EVENINGS AT THE MOVIES AND THE REST OF YOUR EVENINGS AT HOME WITH THE RADIO?

YOU SAID IT

I CAN'T STAY HOME WITH MY RADIO AND BE AT THE MOVIES, TOO- AND I DON'T WANT TO MISS EITHER ONE - THIS IS THE ONLY WAY OUT

A SAD CASE.

WHY DIDN'T YOU BRING YOUR DINNER WITH YOU, TOO?

OF COURSE, THEY MIGHT MAKE A RADIO SET SMALL ENOUGH SO YOU CAN TAKE IT TO THE MOVIES WITH YOU.

TO AVOID ARGUMENTS, IT SHOULD BE PLACED IN THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By Stanley

IF ANY OF YOU BOYS ARE GOING UP TO THE DRUG STORE TONIGHT, I WONDER IF YOU WOULD MIND POSTING THIS LETTER FOR ME?

I'LL TAKE IT MISS LEE! I WAS GOING UP TO TH' DRUG STORE JES THIS MINUTE FOR RAZOR BLADES!

GIVE ME TH' LETTER! IF BUS TAKES IT, TH' DRY CLEANERS WILL BE READING IT NEXT MONTH WHEN THEY EMPTV HIS POCKETS!

TRUST IT TO ME, MISS LEE! TH' CIVIL WAR WOULDN'T BE OVERT, IF IT WASN'T FOR MY GRANDFATHER- HE DELIVERED ALL TH' IMPORTANT MESSAGES!

THEIR SNUB-POLICY GOES ON THE ROCKS

HOLD 'ER NEWT SHE'S AREARIN'

GIT MY LINIMENT BOB!!

YOU SAY- ONE SLIP AND DOWN HE GOES?

NO-NO- I SAY HES TOO OLD TO CUT SUCH DIDDIES!!

WHEN HANK HOLTON ATTEMPTED TO DO SOME ACROBATIC TRICKS IN CELEBRATING HIS BIRTHDAY HE GOT A CRAMP IN HIS LEG AND IT TOOK THE BOYS TEN MINUTES TO UNTANGLE HIM

Your Wants - All of Them - Supplied Here

WANT AD PAGE

Call
Phone Number
21.

HELP WANTED—MALE OUT OUR WAY

Wanted—Share cropper or straight salary. Every convenience. Man with family preferred. Write Dr. W. P. McGuire, Wytheville, Va. 1925

Wanted: Clerk At Soda Fountain. Must be over 18 years old. Booth's Drug Store. 1925

Wanted: Two First-Class Painters; 50 cents an hour. Apply 703 East Green St. J. B. Farrell 1925

Wanted—Experienced Linotype operator for steady work. Apply the Register office. 1925

ROOMS—HOUSES

For Rent

For Rent—2 or 3 rooms, water lights, gas and phone, no children, reasonable rent. 412 Worham St. Phone 1442-W. 1925

For Rent—2 six room houses, Colquhoun street. Bath, electric lights and gas, $25.00 per month. Apply Dodson Shoe Store. 2925

For Rent—New 6 room apartment, Marshall Terrace. Hardwood floors, tile bath, Arocia heat, etc. W. W. Williamson. 2925

For Rent: 5 Room Apartment, Cop. Sutherland Ave. and Green St. Arocia heat. Phone 102-W. 1925

For Rent: Five-Room House, 640 Cabell street. Gas, electric, light and water. Phone 581. 1225

For Rent: 7-Room Brick House, located at 419 Wilson St. Phone 417. 1925

House For Rent: Six Rooms, Bath and two halls, two floors, newly painted inside and outside, on car line. Peerman & Fuller, Telephone 1234. 1925

Wanted: Two Rooms, Unfurnished. Connecting. Water and lights furnished. $12 month. Phone 2444-J. 1925

For Rent: Apartments, Marshall Terrace, oak floors, tile baths, Arocia heat and garage. J. W. Via. Phone 1002-W. 1925

Three-Room Apartment, Rooms Connected, private bath room and glassed-in porch. Phone and water free, near car stop. M. P. Barrier, 1224 No. Main St. Phone 1714-W. 1925

For Rent: Two Rooms to Couple without children. Can be seen at 812 Grove St. Phone 1652. Possession May 1st. 1925

For Rent: New House At 844 Lee St. Apply 217 Main St. 1925

For Rent: Five-Room Cottage, Garden, water and electric lights, just off North Main extension. Apply to V. T. Crane, 1915 Carter St. 1925

For Rent: Two Rooms On Car Line. Phone 1112-W. 1925

For Rent: Nice Four-Room Cottage, 625 Monument St. Water, Gas, Electric Lights and Garden. Phone 1241-J. 1925

Two Furnished Rooms For Rent. On car line, to couple without children. Apply to Box 774, City. 1925

For Rent: New Furnished Apartment, all conveniences, to couple without children. Immediate possession. Address "Apartment No. 1" care The Register. 1925

FOR SALE

All kinds tomato plants, 10c per doz., $1.00 per 100; cabbage, jersey, Charleston, flat, dutch, per 100 25c, postpaid. Carolina Truck and Plant Co., R. F. D. 5, Danville, Va. 1925

Come To Ligon's—The Man's Store. Cigars and cigarettes cheaper. Save our coupons. They are worth half in trade. 2625

New Pants to Match Any Coat. Bring your old coat or vest that you want matched. Harris Clothing Co. 242-244

For Screen Windows and Doors Call the Danville Lumber & Mfg. Co., Phone 30 and 31. 1925

Screen Your Home Before the Fly comes. The Danville Lumber & Mfg. Co. is prepared to furnish them promptly. Phone 30 and 31. 2825

Everything for a pretty lawn. lawn mowers, lawn hose, sprinklers and grass seed. Union Hardware Co. 1925

This Is The Season For Turnadoes! See me about a Turnado Policy. At a small cost I can protect your home, store or manufacturing plant. Jno. E. Overby. Phone 490-J. No. 2, Arcade Bldg. 1925

On Account of Leaving Town For Summer, I offer one new handsome mahogany self-playing piano. Sells for $150.00, at $75.00, with $5.00 roll of music. One Kimball organ, $15. Phone 614-J, after 6 p. m. 1925

For Sale: Deluxe Adding Machine. Only use a few months, good as new, a bargain to quick purchaser. Write Box No. 270. 1925

For Sale: Baby Carriage. In Good condition, cheap. Phone 1231-J, or call 123 S. Ridge St. 1925

For Sale: 50 Nice Berkshire and Polan China pigs. See at Union Warehouse. 1925

For Sale: Choice Tomato Plants, 10c per doz., $1.00 per 100. Also cabbage plants, 25c per 100. At Holland's Warehouse, North Union St. C. P. Holland. 1925

For Sale: Scarlet Sage, Hot and Sweet peppers. Choice assortment. N. W. Escott's Union Warehouse. 1925

For Sale: One Large Ice Box and Gas stove. Call 244-W. 1925

LOST - FOUND - STOLEN

Lost: Thursday Bunch of Keys in leather case. Finder return to Register Office. 1925

Lost: Frydman Watch Charm. Some time last week. If found please return to Register Office and receive reward. 1925

Lost—Somewhere between Stokes St. and Municipal Building, one crescent pin set with pearls and sapphires. Reward. Miss Emma Jarland, 229 Stokes St. 1925

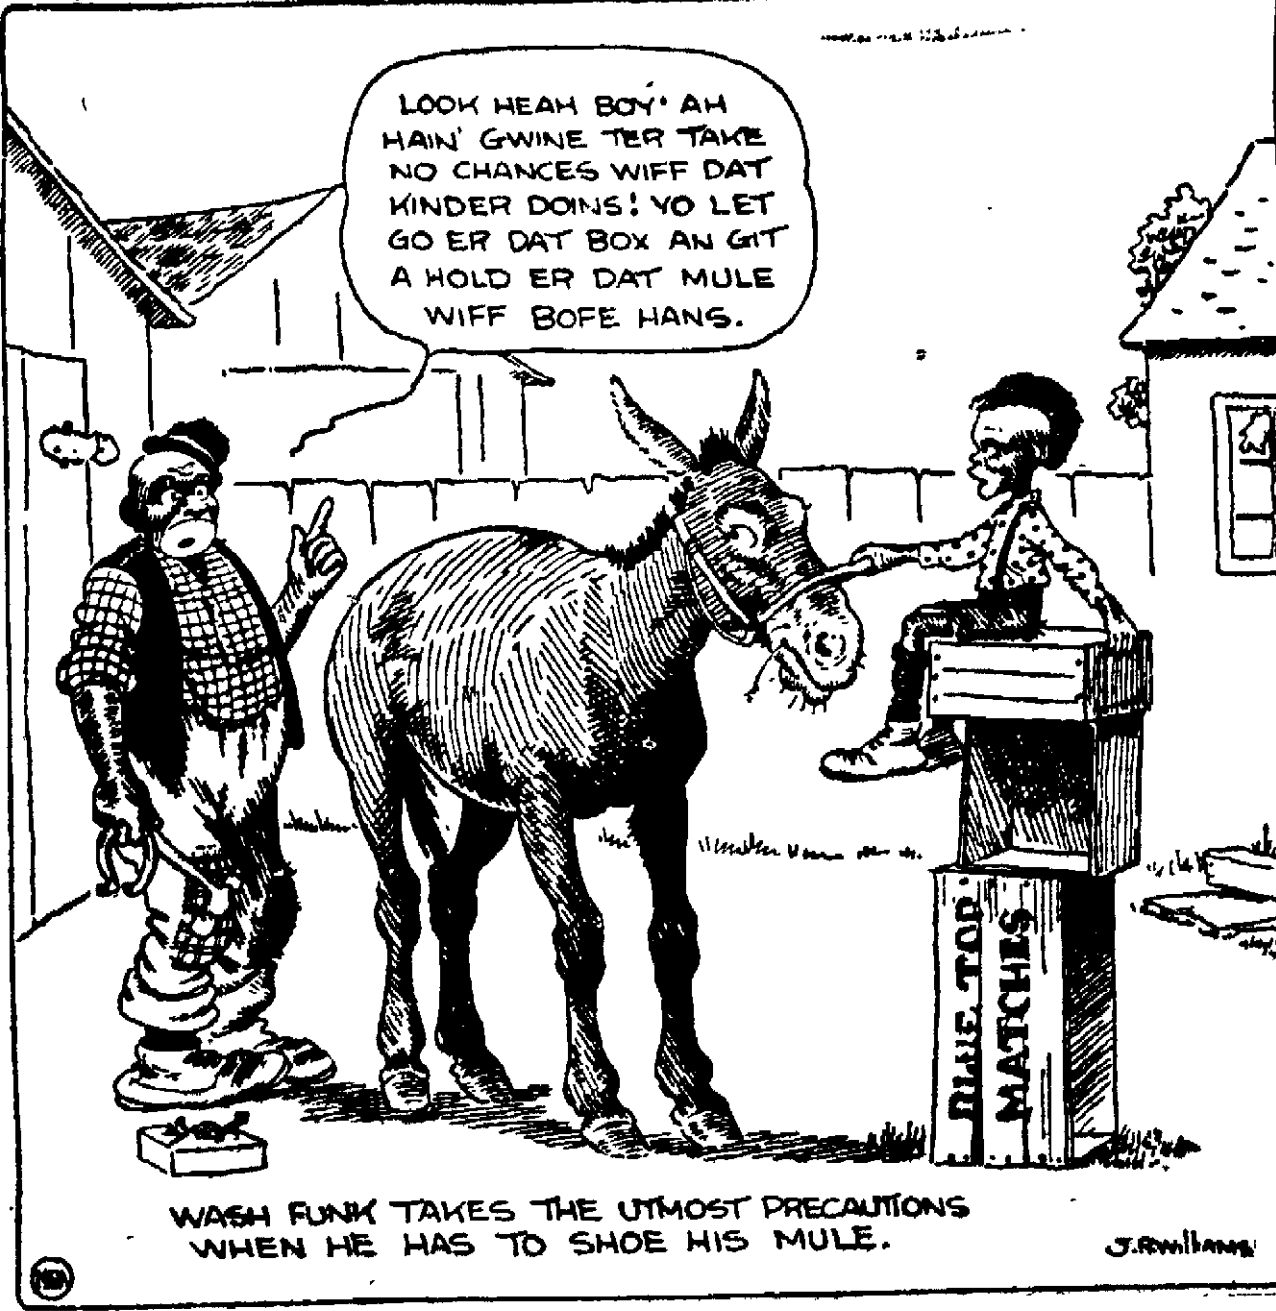

Lost—Monday night, bunch of keys in leather with name of Lynchburg Steam Bakery. Finder please return to Register office and receive reward. 1925

NEWARK, N. J., May 1.—Tanko Sokolowski will keep on washing windows. He likes his job. He has saved his money and recently he bought a $100 apartment house. In which some of his employers live. Some day he may have enough money to buy the Westworth Building or Grant's Tomb. But he will keep on washing windows. He likes his job.

THE GUMPS

Do You Remember Oliver Twist? He always wanted "More" We have the same experience with our customers, in fact this is a business of Oliver Twist. They always come back for more Ice Cream, The Velvet Kind, put up to carry home. Plain Quarts or the sleek room size 19c. Get it at the store with seven day service.

Booth's Drug Store
Phone 1774

WASH FUNK TAKES THE UTMOST PRECAUTIONS WHEN HE HAS TO SHOE HIS MULE.

WANTED

Wanted—To buy 1923 or '24 model Ford roadster for cash. Owner must want to sell. Address P. O. Box 890. 1925

Wanted: Room For Two. If interested write to "K. S. C." 122 Union street. 1925

POULTRY—LIVE STOCK

For Sale: Nice Duroc Pigs, Registered, Duroc bear and three fresh milch cows. E. T. Starling, Wenden, Va. 2125

TELEPHONE GUIDE

"Springtime" Is Tuning Time. Call Albert A. Hall, Phone 2200. 1925

HARRIS COAL CO.

PHONE 1748. 1925

FOR RENT

Phone One-One. New Closed Car Taxi. U-Drive-It and Taxi Co. 2525

Holt's Private Detective Agency.

Phone 1214. 509 Masonic Temple. 1925

Plumbing and Heating

Phone 768. 300 Bridge St. 1-125

Sam McClinton.

Dry Wood. Phone 2004-W. 1125

Notice: Call Hubbard F. Walker to do your Plumbing and Heating.

Phone 1214. 1925

W. R. Edmunds & Company, Heating and Plumbing.

321 Craghead St. Phone 1137 and 1267. 1-25

Farley Plumbing & Heating Co.

The best work is the cheapest. 1925

Sign Painting a Specialty.

Powell Sign Works, 422 Main St. Upstairs. Phone 1688. 1-25

Shoe Repairing.

DANVILLE SHU-FIX. We call for and deliver. Phone 241. 1-25

AUTOMOBILES

Cole "4." 4-passenger, sport model, for sale or will exchange for smaller car. First class mechanical condition, new tires, point good. Address 208 North Ridge St., phone 164. 2925

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

For Sale: Seven-Room House, 814 N. Main street. Phone 2973. 2625

For Sale: Farm and Mill Site With 20 acres land $3,000.00. Terms easy. Call Gravelly Brothers, phone 123. 1925

DU BOISTOWN, Pa., May 1.—When the wild jangle of the fire alarm broke up the dancing party of the city firemen and their wives in the borough hall here, the women assisted their husbands in dragging the hose cart to the scene of the fire and in laying the hose. 1925

SPECIAL NOTICES

USED CARS SPECIAL SALE

For This Week Only See These 1923 Model Chevrolets

- 1 Chevrolet Sedan,
- 1 Chevrolet Sedanette,
- 2 Chevrolet Touring,
- 2 Chevrolet Coupes,
- 1 1923 Ford roadster,
- 2 1923 Ford coupes,
- 5 Ford tourings from $75 up,
- 2 Ford ton trucks,
- 1 1921 Dodge touring, a bargain.

See us for prices and terms. Anderson Motor Co. 3025

Bring Down Expenses—patronize Haraway—get Good Meats at Lower Prices.

J. W. Haraway's Markets 1925

Our Ice Cream Is Made of pure Jersey cream. We deliver on Sunday. Leave your order with us. Baroody's, Phone 567. 1925

Usual Sale of Fresh Homemade Candy at Baroody's, 400 Main St. 1925

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

For Sale: Seven-Room House, 814 N. Main street. Phone 2973. 2625

For Sale: Farm and Mill Site With 20 acres land $3,000.00. Terms easy. Call Gravelly Brothers, phone 123. 1925

DU BOISTOWN, Pa., May 1.—When the wild jangle of the fire alarm broke up the dancing party of the city firemen and their wives in the borough hall here, the women assisted their husbands in dragging the hose cart to the scene of the fire and in laying the hose. 1925

SPECIAL NOTICE

Look! Look!

Haraway's Famous

Chuck Roast reduced to 17c per pound.

J. W. Haraway's Markets 1925

CITY LICENSES

Your license for 1924 are ready in my office for collection. Extract from city ordinance: Any person conducting a business for which a license is required, after the first day of May, without license, shall be liable to a fine of from one to twenty dollars per day. D. P. GARVIN, City Collector. 2925

See Us Before Buying Your lettuce, celery and fruits. We have the goods at the right price. Baroody's, Phone 567. 1925 has been found at the Danville Tailoring Company, with a happy line of piece goods, ready-to-wear suits and a new line of gent's furnishings. Kelly M. Lewis. 2925

At Last Kelly

City Licenses now ready and payable at office of D. P. Garvin, City Collector. 2925

We buy, sell and exchange furniture. Come to us for real bargains. Wyatt Furniture Store. Phone 1890 430 No. Union. 2925

City Licenses now ready and payable at office of D. P. Garvin, City Collector. 2925

PUBLIC SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

As trustee in a deed of assignment from Dodson & King, I will offer for sale at public auction at the garage in the alley in rear of the Leland Hotel on Saturday, May 10th, 1924, at two o'clock, p. m., the following property:

One used Southern truck, one used Ford truck, one used Reo touring, carbon burners, reamers, office gas stove, grease pump, double jack and other garage tools and automobile incidentals; also roller top desk, waste basket, files, etc. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

TAXES

Meet me at Holland's warehouse Saturday, May 3rd, and pay your Tazewell District taxes. This is positively the last Saturday that you can pay your capitation taxes to get on the eligible voting list. C. G. WATSON, Deputy Treasurer. 1925

For Clean Greenhouses, call R. F. Seaman. Phone 631. I give S. & H. Green Stamps and guaranteed my goods to be as represented. Store No. 621, corner Rison & Paxton Sts. 1225

SPECIAL NOTICE

Saturday Specials!

Chuck Roast, 17c per Lb.

Fresh Shoulders, 16c Lb.

Picnic Hams . . 18c per Lb.

Side Pork . . . 14c per Lb.

Pigs Heads . . . 7c per Lb.

Veal Breast . . 14c per Lb.

Veal Chops . . 26c per Lb.

Liver 15c per Lb.

Stew Beef . . . 10c per Lb.

Brisket Roast, 12c per Lb.

Hamburger . . 20c per Lb.

Pork Sausage, 20c per Lb.

Fresh Hams . . 24c per Lb.

If it is meat, you can get it at Haraway's, what you want when you want it.

J. W. Haraway's Markets

308 Craghead St.

Branches:

515 No. Union St.,

421 Jefferson St.,

Stalls 1 & 2, City Market.

Windstorm and Tornado

For a small cost we can protect you against windstorms and tornadoes. Call us for rates on this policy. 1925

Keeling Brothers, Inc., Real Estate and Insurance. 1925

Fish! Fish!

Unusual nice line.

Roe Shad

Buck Shad

Trout

Butter Fish

Flounders

Croakers

Haraway's Sea Food Market, Phone 1900 304 Craghead St. 3025

If There Ever Was a Place to buy good things to eat this must be the place!

Nice large tomatoes, new potatoes, celery, lettuce, squash, new snaps, spring onions, nice tender salad, new cabbage, apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas. The nicest Spring Chickens you ever put your peepers on. Cakes? Yes! We have just what you want. Pies, Cookies, Cream Puffs. Rolls, 10c per doz. and bread. You may be on short time, but you will have a good time if you buy from the store that sells cheaper. Phone 132-190. F. M. Meeks, 205 Main St. 1925

There Would Be No Use In me coming out in competition with grocers if I did not have as good groceries in quality and price.

1/2-Bbl full patent Flour, $3.25.

25 Lbs Sugar . . . $2.25

Bran $1.85

Red Rod $2.30

Scratch $2.35

Large Bucket Pure Lard, $1.35, Next size, 70c.

Next size, 38c.

All kinds Dried Beans 15c qt. Green Beans, fresh Cabbage, Oranges, Apples and Bananas. Nice Country Dried Apples, 15c Lb. Special, Best Cotton Seed Meal, $2.35 sack.

Hulls, $1.65.

New Herrings, 15c Dozen.

8 to 25 Lbs. Hams, 25c Lb.

Jump in your car, come right over. That Good Gulf and Texas Oil every day.

Intersection E. Thomas St. and Halifax Road. R. E. ELLIOTT. 1925

For Clean Greenhouses, call R. F. Seaman. Phone 631. I give S. & H. Green Stamps and guaranteed my goods to be as represented. Store No. 621, corner Rison & Paxton Sts. 1225

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

MEADE R. FLYNN, Trustee as aforesaid. 2925

Money to Lend at 6%
On Business or Residential Property 3 to 15 Years.
No Life Insurance Required.
Waddill-Holland Co., Inc.
Hotel Burton Corner.
Loan Agent Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

SPECIAL NOTICES

For Perfect Fitting Screen windows and doors, call 93. Heidelberg Lumber Co. 25b12

You Won't Have To Pay For Going back to the shop if you call me. I bring the shop with me when I come. Geo. W. Motley, The Five Forks Plumber, Phone 1059-W. We give service. 1925

NOTICE: Having sold my grocery business, I wish to thank all of my customers for their generous patronage and square dealings with me, and I trust that their dealings with me have been as satisfactory to them. Those wishing to settle their accounts will find me at my old stand. Thanking you in advance, I am, Your old servant, B. W. BUNTIN. 1925

Every Day Prices at Five Forks Meat Co. Round Steak . . . 25c Lb. Best Corn Steak . . . 25c Lb. Pork Chops . . . 25c Lb. Pork Sausage . . . 25c Lb. Veal Chops . . . 25c Lb. Veal Steak . . . 25c Lb. Stew Veal . . . 15c Lb. Stew Beef . . . 15c Lb. Chuck Roast . . . 15c Lb. We deliver anywhere. Phone 1510. 1925

MASONIC NOTICE

